INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to NRS 228.470(2)(e), the Committee on Domestic Violence is required to "submit on or before March 1 of each odd numbered year a report to the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau for distribution to the regular session of the Legislature. The report must include, without limitation, a summary of the work of the Committee and recommendations for any necessary legislation concerning domestic violence."

The Committee on Domestic Violence was created in 1997 following the enactment of NRS 228.470 (AB170), which mandated the creation of the Committee to be appointed by the Attorney General to:

- a) Adopt regulations for the evaluation, certification and monitoring of programs for the treatment of persons who commit violence;
- b) Review, monitor and certify programs for the treatment of persons who commit domestic violence;
- c) Review and evaluate existing programs provided to peace officers for training related to domestic violence and make recommendations to the Peace Officers' Standards and Training committee regarding such training;
- d) To the extent that money is available, arrange for the provision of legal services, including, without limitation, assisting a person in an action for divorce; and
- e) Submit the above referenced report.

To accomplish these five goals, the Committee was formed and pursuant to NRS 228.470(1) is comprised of the following members:

- a) Staff member of a program for victims of domestic violence—Sue Meuschke, Executive Director, Nevada Network Against Domestic Violence;

- b) One staff member of a program for the treatment of persons who commit domestic violence—Tim Hamilton, Supervisor of Safe Nest/TADC;
- c) One representative from an office of the district attorney with experience in prosecuting criminal offenses—Vacant;
- d) One representative from an office of the city attorney with experience in prosecuting criminal offenses—Vacant;
- e) One law enforcement officer—Lt. Jeffrey Hewes, Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department;
- f) One provider of mental health care—Meri Shadley, MFT, Ph.D., Associate Professor, University of Nevada, Reno;
- g) Two victims of domestic violence—Traci Dory, Victim Services Officer, Department of Corrections, and Lisa Arnold, Nevada resident; and
- h) One justice of the peace or municipal judge—Max Bunch, Justice of the Peace, Battle Mountain.

Two members of the Committee, Traci Dory, and Max Bunch, are residents of a county whose population is less than 100,000. Statute requires two members be residents of a county whose population is less than 100,000.

SUMMARY OF WORK OF THE COMMITTEE

Each year, the Committee meets quarterly to conduct its business including review of program license applications and renewals, and review of trainings for the continuing education of domestic violence service providers. Currently, the Committee is chaired by Tim Hamilton. The Attorney General's Office is considering a request for proposal to combine administrative duties with the site inspections of certified agencies.

A. ADOPT REGULATIONS

In 1997, the Committee adopted regulations, codified under the Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) Chapter 228. Those regulations were subsequently amended in 1999, 2008, 2010, and again in 2014. The recent regulation changes included more detailed topic areas for formal training as well as a new section on ethical conduct which would specifically prohibit dual relationships between providers and clients. The Committee will continue to solicit input and feedback from the regulated programs and the general public to consider further changes in the future should they become necessary.

B. REVIEW, MONITOR AND CERTIFY PROGRAMS

The State of Nevada Committee on Domestic Violence currently certifies 30 programs throughout the state and maintains a reciprocity agreement with three agencies in California and Arizona. The Committee currently reviews and certifies those programs by reviewing submitted written materials, documenting continuing education requirements, and reviewing compliance reports.

From 2004 to the present, the Committee has contracted with Dr. Alfred Hughes, an independent batterer's treatment program site evaluator to visit each certified program. The Committee previously was required by regulation to inspect each agency once per year, but due to budget constraints, the Committee amended the regulation and now may review them once per year, but only has funding to review them once every two years. The Attorney General's Office is in the process of revising this contract and combining it with the Administrative Coordinator position duties.

There continues to be concern with the lack of certified programs in rural Nevada, and the Committee formally created the Rural Issues subcommittee to review possible solutions for providing batterers treatment in the state's rural areas. It appears that the barriers to treatment include lack of sufficient clients to support a program, and lack of qualified providers to offer the treatment.

The Office of the Attorney General also created and maintains a website with fillable forms for treatment providers, listings of current certified providers, agendas, and minutes, as well as upcoming meeting dates.

The Committee reviews and approves ongoing continuing and formal education courses for providers. The website includes a list of all approved courses. A training sub-committee was created to review current education requirements and make recommendations for improvement. Those recommendations were utilized for the 2014 regulations.

C. REVIEW AND EVALUATE EXISTING PROGRAMS PROVIDED TO PEACE OFFICERS

The Committee last conducted a thorough review of existing training programs provided to peace officers relating to domestic violence in 2008. The Attorney General's Nevada Council for the Prevention of Domestic Violence invited staff from Peace Officer Standard Training (POST) to discuss existing training programs provided to Nevada peace officers at a meeting in 2013. The Committee recommends that peace officer training programs update their current curriculums with any legislation changes in 2015 regarding domestic violence, and will be reviewing all training curriculums again in the next year.

D. ARRANGE FOR THE PROVISION OF LEGAL SERVICES

The Committee is currently mandated to arrange for the provision of legal services for victims of domestic violence seeking a divorce. Committee members, the Nevada Council for the Prevention of Domestic Violence, and the Domestic Violence Ombudsman, Kareen Prentice, are aware of the needs of domestic violence victims in the State of Nevada and the barriers they face when it comes to obtaining legal services and refer individuals to various agencies accordingly. Although the Committee is being tasked with providing legal assistance to victims, the Committee is unable to arrange for the provision of legal services for victims due to lack of funding. The Committee recommended removing this provision from their statutes in the 2007, 2009, 2011, and 2013 reports to the legislature and is making the same recommendation in the 2015 report.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR LEGISLATION

The Committee recommends legislative changes in the following areas:

1. Remove language requiring the Committee to arrange for the provision of legal services for divorce proceedings or provide funding to allow for such services.
