3 United States of America;

6 capacity as Postmaster General;

8 SERVICE,

9 I. INTRODUCTION

10 1. The United States Postal Service (USPS or the Postal Service) has 11 been a cherished and vital American institution since our country's founding, 12 when Benjamin Franklin served as the first Postmaster General. It provides an 13 essential service for all Americans by delivering prescriptions, Social Security 14 payments, books and magazines, mail-in ballots, and more, and it has long been 15 America's most popular federal agency.

16 2. The mission of the Postal Service is more vital than ever today, with 17 the COVID-19 pandemic forcing many Americans, especially seniors and the 18 medically vulnerable, to quarantine at home and to rely increasingly on receiving 19 material through the mail. The pandemic has also prompted many States to take 20 steps to make it easier for their residents to vote by mail, so that no American is 21 forced to choose between risking their health and exercising their fundamental 22 right to vote.

1           3.     Despite the venerable history and obvious importance of the Postal 2 Service, Postmaster General Louis DeJoy has recently instituted sweeping 3 changes that undermine the Postal Service’s ability to provide consistent and 4 timely service. DeJoy has called these changes “transformative” and has 5 acknowledged that they have “impacted our overall service levels.”

6           4.     DeJoy instituted these “transformative” changes following repeated 7 statements from President Trump evincing a partisan political motive for making 8 it harder to vote by mail, such as his statement that ““MAIL-IN VOTING 9 WILL . . . LEAD TO THE END OF OUR GREAT REPUBLICAN PARTY.”<sup>1</sup>

10          5.     The “transformative” changes DeJoy has implemented are both 11 procedurally and substantively unlawful. As a matter of procedure, Congress has 12 established a specific process the Postal Service must follow before making 13 changes in postal services, requiring the Postmaster General to consult with the 14 Postal Regulatory Commission and to give the public an opportunity to comment.
15 39 U.S.C. § 3661. General DeJoy never engaged in that process here. As a matter 16 of substance, these changes will have a wide range of negative consequences that 17 violate a diverse array of federal laws, from harming individuals with disabilities 18 in violation of the Rehabilitation Act to disenfranchising voters in violation of 19 the Constitution.

1           6. The States of Washington, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, 2 Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Rhode Island, 3 Vermont, and Wisconsin and the Commonwealth of Virginia bring this action to 4 protect our States and our residents against these unlawful actions.

5                               II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6           7. The Court has jurisdiction over this lawsuit pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
7 § 1331 (federal question) and 39 U.S.C. § 409 (suits against the Postal Service).
8 The Court has jurisdiction to award the relief requested pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
9 § 1361 (mandamus) and 28 U.S.C. § 2201 (declaratory relief and further relief).

10           8. Venue in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b)(2) 11 and 1391(e)(1).

12           9. Defendants are United States agencies or officers sued in their 13 official capacities. The State of Washington is a resident of this judicial district, 14 and a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to this Complaint 15 occurred or will imminently occur within the Eastern District of Washington. In 16 particular, the Postal Service's changes to the nature of postal services will delay 17 the receipt and postmarking of mail, harming the health and well-being of 18 residents who depend on the mail for critical and time-sensitive items such as 19 medications, bills, benefits payments, and legal documents. The delayed mail 20 will include mailed ballots, affecting elections of federal, state, legislative, 21 judicial, county, city, town, and district officers scheduled for November 3, 2020.

1 This disruption to elections conducted by the States, including Washington, 2 negatively impacts the States and disenfranchises their residents. Mail delays also 3 harm the States' economies, and directly harm state agencies that use mail to send 4 and receive time-sensitive materials. Additionally, the Postal Service's sudden 5 and unilateral changes to the nature of postal services deprived the States, 6 including Washington, of their procedural right to comment on such changes 7 prior to implementation as established by federal law.

8 III. PARTIES

9 10. Plaintiff the State of Washington is represented by its Attorney 10 General, Bob Ferguson, who is the State's chief legal advisor. The powers and 11 duties of the Attorney General include acting in federal court on matters of public 12 concern to the State.

13 11. Plaintiff the State of Colorado is a sovereign state of the United 14 States of America. This action is brought on behalf of the State of Colorado by 15 Attorney General Phillip J. Weiser, who is the chief legal representative of the 16 State of Colorado, empowered to prosecute and defend all actions in which the 17 state is a party. Colo. Rev. Stat. § 24-31-101(1)(a).

18 12. Plaintiff the State of Connecticut, represented by and through its 19 Attorney General, William Tong, is a sovereign state of the United States of 20 America. The Attorney General brings this action as the state's chief civil legal 21 officer under Conn. Gen. Stat. § 3-124 et seq.

1           13. Plaintiff the State of Illinois is a sovereign state of the United States 2 of America. This action is being brought on behalf of the State of Illinois by 3 Attorney General Kwame Raoul, the State’s chief legal officer. See Ill. Const. art.
4 V, § 15; 15 ILCS 205/4.

5           14. Plaintiff the State of Maryland, by and through its Attorney General, 6 Brian E. Frosh, is a sovereign state of the United States of America. The Attorney 7 General is Maryland’s chief legal officer with general charge, supervision, and 8 direction of the State’s legal business. The Attorney General’s powers and duties 9 include acting on behalf of the State and the people of Maryland in the federal 10 courts on matters of public concern. Under the Constitution of Maryland, and as 11 directed by the Maryland General Assembly, the Attorney General has the 12 authority to file suit to challenge action by the federal government that threatens 13 the public interest and welfare of Maryland residents. Md. Const. art. V, § 3(a)(2); 14 2017 Md. Laws, Joint Resolution 1.

15           15. Plaintiff the State of Michigan, represented by and through its 16 Attorney General, is a sovereign state of the United States of America. The 17 Attorney General is Michigan’s chief law enforcement officer and is authorized 18 under Michigan law, Mich. Comp. Laws §§ 14.28 and 14.29, to pursue this 19 action.

20           16. Plaintiff the State of Minnesota is represented by its Attorney 21 General, Keith Ellison, who is the State’s chief legal officer. The powers and 22

1 duties of the Attorney General include acting in federal court in matters of State
2 concern and to protect the interests of Minnesota residents. See Minn. Stat. § 8.01 3 (2018).

4 17. Plaintiff the State of Nevada, represented by and through its 5 Attorney General, is a sovereign state of the United States of America. Attorney 6 General Aaron D. Ford is the chief legal officer of the State of Nevada and has 7 the authority to commence actions in federal court to protect the interests of the 8 State. Nev. Rev. § 228.170.

9 18. Plaintiff State of New Mexico, represented by and through its 10 Attorney General, is a sovereign state of the United States of America. Attorney 11 General Hector Balderas is the chief legal officer of the State of New Mexico. He 12 is authorized to prosecute all actions and proceedings on behalf of New Mexico 13 when, in his judgment, the interest of the State requires such action. N.M. Stat.
14 Ann. § 8-5-2(B). Likewise, he shall appear before federal courts to represent New 15 Mexico when, in his judgment, the public interest of the state requires such 16 action. N.M. Stat. Ann. § 8-5-2(J). This challenge is brought pursuant to Attorney 17 General Balderas's statutory and common law authority.

18 19. Plaintiff Oregon is represented by its Attorney General, who is the State's chief 19 legal officer. The Attorney General is authorized by Oregon law to perform all legal services 20 for the State of Oregon.

1           20. Plaintiff the State of Rhode Island is a sovereign state of the United 2 States of America. This action is brought on behalf of the State of Rhode Island
3 and the people of the State of Rhode Island by Attorney General
4 Peter F. Neronha, who is constitutionally and statutorily empowered to prosecute 5 and protect the legal interests of Rhode Island and its citizens. See R.I. Gen. Laws 6 § 42-9-6.

7           21. Plaintiff the State of Vermont, represented by and through its 8 Attorney General, Thomas J. Donovan, is a sovereign state in the United States 9 of America. The Attorney General is the state's chief law enforcement officer 10 and is authorized to pursue this action pursuant to Vt. Stat. Ann. tit. 3, §§ 152 and 11 157.

12           22. Plaintiff Commonwealth of Virginia is represented by its Attorney 13 General, who is the Commonwealth's chief legal adviser. The powers and duties 14 of the Attorney General include acting in federal court on behalf of the 15 Commonwealth on matters of public concern.

16           23. Plaintiff the State of Wisconsin is a sovereign state of the United 17 States of America and brings this action by and through its Attorney General, 18 Joshua L. Kaul, who is the chief legal officer of the State of Wisconsin and has 19 the authority to file civil actions to protect Wisconsin's rights and interests. See 20 Wis. Stat. § 165.25(1m). The Attorney General's powers and duties include 21 appearing for and representing the State, on the governor's request, "in any court

1 or before any officer, any cause or matter, civil or criminal, in which the state or 2 the people of this state may be interested.

3 24. The States bring this action to redress harms to their sovereign, 4 proprietary, and quasi-sovereign interests caused by the Postal Service’s sudden 5 and unilateral changes to the nature of postal services with no opportunity for 6 public input.

7 25. As users of the mail, the States have a procedural right to participate 8 in a hearing prior to the adoption of any “change in the nature of postal services 9 which will generally affect service on a nationwide or substantially nationwide 10 basis[.]” 39 U.S.C. § 3661. USPS has a corresponding duty to seek an advisory 11 opinion from the Postal Regulatory Commission prior to making such a change 12 in the nature of postal services, triggering the requirement for a hearing. Id.
13 Absent any other adequate remedy, this duty is enforceable via a writ of 14 mandamus.

15 26. Furthermore, the States have sovereign interests in their retained 16 power to conduct elections as they see fit. Under specific grants of authority in 17 the Constitution, States conduct presidential and congressional elections. See 18 U.S. Const., art. I, § 4; art. II, § 1; and amend. XVII. Within constitutional and 19 statutory limits, States administer access to the ballots, identify and administer 20 polling locations, set the times for voting on Election Day, print ballots and 21 voters’ pamphlets, train election workers, and count and certify ballots. States 22

1 also hold statewide and local elections on Election Day. USPS's unlawful actions 2 at issue impinge on the States' sovereign powers to conduct elections by mail, in 3 whole or in part, during the COVID-19 pandemic. A number of States have 4 increased their reliance on mail-in ballots to conduct their elections in 2020.

5 27. As extensive users of the mail for critical functions, the States have 6 proprietary interests in the mail system. States send an enormous amount of mail, 7 from ballots to benefit payments to legal notices. The Postal Service's changes 8 to the nature of postal services will negatively impact the States' ability to get 9 materials to recipients in a timely fashion, just as they would affect any business 10 or entity that relies on the mail for core functions. The States also have proprietary 11 interests in the conduct of their elections, such as having made significant 12 financial investments in postage for mailed ballots, printing ballots and 13 instructions for returning ballots, and messaging to voters about voting 14 procedures during the COVID-19 pandemic, in reliance on the availability of 15 timely postal services consistent with past USPS policies and practices.

16 28. The States also have interests in protecting their citizens' 17 fundamental right to vote, and in protecting the health and welfare of residents 18 who depend on the availability of timely postal services for the delivery of critical 19 items such as medications, ballots, utility bills, checks, business deliveries, legal 20 documents, and a wide range of other time-sensitive materials.

1 states was “justly reckoned among the surest means of preventing the degeneracy 2 of a free Gov’t.” Alexis de Tocqueville marveled at our country’s postal system, 3 remarking in his study of American democracy that “the mail, that great link 4 between minds, today penetrates into the heart of the wilderness.” The postal 5 system bound—and continues to bind—this nation together.

6 35. In the 1800s, the Postal Service was one of the few places where 7 women could work, acting as small-town postmasters. After the Civil War, it 8 employed significant numbers of Black Americans. Today, the Postal Service 9 is one of the largest employers for veterans—employing over 97,000 veterans.

10 36. Along with providing mail delivery and low-cost parcel post, the 11 Post Office also provided banking services. It sold Treasury bonds to help fund 12 the New Deal and allowed GIs to bank while abroad during World War II.

13 37. Today, the Postal Service remains a very popular institution and 14 employs over 500,000 workers. Its carriers deliver more than 470 million pieces 15 of mail each day.

16 38. The Postal Service delivers critical mail: voter registration 17 applications and mail-in ballots, utility bills, Social Security and stimulus checks, 18 Census questionnaires, prescriptions, and more. Amidst the COVID-19 19 pandemic, postal employees have continued to deliver mail to meet the essential 20 needs of this country.

1           39. The Postal Service serves all of America—whether in rural, urban, 2 or suburban areas.

3           40. The Postal Service also serves the States, who themselves are high-4 volume users of the Postal Service. The States use the Postal Service not only for 5 the delivery of mail-in ballots to eligible voters, but also for countless other state 6 processes that rely on efficient and effective mail delivery.

7       B. Statutory Requirements Governing Postal Services

8           41. The United States Postal Service is “a basic and fundamental service 9 provided to the people by the Government of the United States, authorized by the 10 Constitution, created by Act of Congress, and supported by the people.” 39 11 U.S.C. § 101(a). The Postal Service’s “basic function” is its “obligation to 12 provide postal services to bind the Nation together through the personal, 13 educational, literary, and business correspondence of the people. It shall provide 14 prompt, reliable, and efficient services to patrons in all areas and shall render 15 postal services to all communities. The costs of establishing and maintaining the 16 Postal Service shall not be apportioned to impair the overall value of such service 17 to the people.” Id.

18           42. The paramount duty of the United States Postal Services is to “plan, 19 develop, promote, and provide adequate and efficient postal services.” 39 U.S.C.
20 § 403. “The Postal Service shall serve as nearly as practicable the entire 21 population of the United States.” Id.

1           43. To further this duty, Congress passed the Postal Accountability and 2 Enhancement Act (PAEA) in 2006. Pub. L. N. 109-435 (Dec. 20, 2006).

3           44. The PAEA converted the former Postal Rate Commission into the 4 independent Postal Regulatory Commission (PRC), and assigned the PRC a host 5 of new duties and powers related to rate-setting, service standards, and oversight 6 of the USPS.

7           45. The PAEA directs the Postal Service to develop a set of service 8 standards, in consultation with the PRC, for postal services. 39 U.S.C. § 3691(a).

9           46. These service standards “shall be designed to achieve” several 10 “objectives,” including “enhanc[ing] the value of postal services to both senders 11 and recipients,” “preserv[ing] regular and effective access to postal services in 12 all communities, including those in rural areas,” and “reasonably assur[ing] 13 Postal Service customers delivery reliability, speed and frequency consistent with 14 reasonable rates and best business practices.” 39 U.S.C. § 3691(b).

15           47. Pursuant to the PAEA, the USPS has promulgated regulations 16 setting service standards for different classes of mail. 39 C.F.R. Part 121. These 17 regulations dictate how long the USPS should take to deliver mail under various 18 circumstance. For example, for First Class mail, most letters within the 19 contiguous 48 states are to be delivered within 1–3 days. 39 C.F.R. § 121.1.

20           48. To further promote accountability, the PAEA gives postal customers 21 who believe the USPS’s service standards do not comply with the statutory

1 objectives of the PAEA or that the USPS is failing to comply with its regulations, 2 the right to sue to enforce the PAEA and/or its regulations. 39 U.S.C. § 3691(d); 3 39 U.S.C. § 3662.

4 49. Under the statute, “[a]ny interested person . . . who believes the 5 Postal Service is not operating in conformance with the requirements of . . . this 6 chapter (or regulations promulgated under any of those provisions) may lodge a 7 complaint with the Postal Regulatory Commission[.]”

8 50. Even before the PAEA was implemented, postal customers have 9 long enjoyed the right to participate in USPS decision making by requiring a 10 hearing before the USPS can make changes to postal service.

11 51. Specifically, 39 U.S.C. § 3661(b) provides: “When the Postal 12 Service determines that there should be a change in the nature of postal services
13 which will generally affect service on a nationwide or substantially nationwide 14 basis, it shall submit a proposal, within a reasonable time prior to the effective 15 date of such proposal, to the Postal Regulatory Commission requesting an 16 advisory opinion on the change.”

17 52. And 39 U.S.C. § 3661(c) provides: “The Commission shall not issue 18 its opinion on any proposal until an opportunity for hearing on the record under 19 [the Administrative Procedure Act] has been accorded to the Postal Service, users 20 of the mail, and an officer of the Commission who shall be required to represent 21 the interests of the general public.”

1 C. Changes in postal services have created widespread mail delays.

2 53. In May 2020, the U.S. Postal Service's Board of Governors, whose 3 members were appointed by President Trump, selected Louis DeJoy to serve as 4 the 75th Postmaster General.

5 54. Louis DeJoy is a major donor to the Republican Party, including to 6 President Trump's election campaign. DeJoy has given more than $2 million to 7 the Trump campaign or Republican causes since 2016 and was in charge of 8 fundraising for the Republican National Convention in Charlotte.<sup>2</sup> Prior to 9 becoming Postmaster General, he was on the board of directors at XPO Logistics, 10 a transportation and logistics company that does business with the USPS and 11 other U.S. government agencies.

12 55. Media outlets report that DeJoy continues to own equity in XPO 13 Logistics, totaling between $30 million and $75 million, creating a major conflict 14 of interest or the appearance of a major conflict of interest.<sup>3</sup> DeJoy also owns 15 stock options in Amazon, a USPS competitor and courier.

1           56. DeJoy is the first Postmaster General in over twenty years to not 2 have risen through the ranks of the Postal Service.

3           57. In what has been called the “Friday Night Massacre,” on August 7, 4 2020, DeJoy centralized his control over the United States Postal Service by 5 reassigning or displacing twenty-three postal executives, including the two top 6 executives overseeing day-to-day operations.

7           58. Soon after his term began in June, DeJoy instituted broad 8 operational changes. DeJoy has admitted that these “transformative” changes 9 have “had unintended consequences that impacted [the Postal Service’s] overall 10 service levels.”<sup>4</sup>

11           59. DeJoy has taken several actions that have cumulatively delayed the 12 mail and reduced the Postal Service’s service on a nationwide or substantially 13 nationwide basis. The “transformative” changes include: (i) eliminating 14 overtime; (ii) instructing carriers to leave mail behind; (iii) decommissioning 15 sorting machines; (iv) removing mailboxes; (v) reducing operating hours; and 16 (vi) changing how election mail is classified and charged.

17           60. Eliminating overtime. DeJoy eliminated overtime necessary to 18 complete the day’s work, affecting hundreds of thousands of postal workers.

1           61. The elimination of overtime places a particular stress on the postal 2 system currently as thousands of postal workers have been quarantined or out 3 sick due to the coronavirus.

4           62. Instructing carriers to leave mail behind. Carriers have been 5 instructed to leave mail behind on the workroom floor or docks if taking it would 6 slow down the delivery process.<sup>5</sup> DeJoy has mandated that carriers cannot make 7 additional trips from a facility to ensure timely distribution of letters and parcels, 8 and that they must “return [from mail routes] on time” even if they have not fully 9 completed their deliveries for the day. Postal workers were previously trained to 10 not leave letters behind and to make multiple delivery trips to ensure timely 11 distribution of letters. DeJoy wrote to employees, “if we cannot deliver all the 12 mail due to call offs or shortage of people and you have no other help, the mail 13 will not go out[.]”

14           63. Postal workers report that the mail is piling up in their offices and 15 that mail is backed up across the country.

16           64. Decommissioning sorting machines. At the same time, 671
17 machines used by the Postal Service to organize and sort letters or other pieces 18 of mail have been or will be removed from dozens of cities across America. This

1 action effectively decommissions 10 percent of the Postal Service’s sorting 2 machines between June and September of 2020.

3 65. These 671 machines—Automated Facer-Canceler Systems, 4 Delivery Bar Code Sorters, Automated Flat Sorting Machines, and Flat
5 Sequencing Systems—can label and sort tens of thousands of paper mail items, 6 such as letters, bills, and ballots, each hour. These machines have the capacity to 7 sort over 21 million pieces of mail per hour. The machines allow carriers to spend 8 more time delivering mail rather than organizing it at a facility.

9 66. Postal Service employees have reported personally witnessing 10 machines costing millions of dollars being “destroyed or thrown in the 11 dumpster.”<sup>6</sup>

12 67. The removal of sorting machines is taking place across the country, 13 but removals would particularly affect sorting capacity in states where recent 14 presidential elections have been particularly close, including Michigan, Ohio, 15 Pennsylvania, and Florida.<sup>7</sup>

68. These removals are diminishing and will continue to diminish the Postal Service’s capacity to speedily process flat mail, such as ballots.

69. According to the Postal Service’s Equipment Reduction Plan, the Postal Service has set a “target” of reducing 969 total machines by the end of fiscal year 2020, with the majority being removed by September 30, 2020.

70. Responding to widespread alarm and criticism over the recently decommissioned sorting machines, the President’s Chief of Staff, Mark Meadows, asserted in an interview that “[s]orting machines between now [August 16, 2020] and Election Day will not be taken offline.” But Meadows continued that this freeze applied to machines that were not part of an “already

1 scheduled reallocation.”<sup>8</sup> Meadows did not respond to questions about sorting 2 machines that were recently decommissioned and why they were taken offline.

3       71. Removing mailboxes. The Postal Service has confirmed that 4 dozens of mailboxes were removed in parts of New York, Pennsylvania, Oregon, 5 and Montana. As Senator Jon Tester of Montana has stated, these removals have 6 “real life implications for folks in rural America and their ability to access critical 7 postal services like paying their bills and voting in upcoming elections.”<sup>9</sup>

8       72. Reducing operating hours. The Postal Service has announced that 9 post offices in many States, including West Virginia, New Jersey, Florida, and 10 Ohio will reduce hours. Upon information and belief, the Postal Service has not 11 provided adequate notice pursuant to 39 U.S.C. § 404.

12       73. Changing how election mail is classified and charged. The Postal 13 Service has further warned state elections officials that they must pay First Class 14 postage for mail ballots to ensure timely delivery and will no longer treat election 15 mail as First Class mail. The Postal Service’s typical practice has been to process 16 and deliver election mail as First Class mail regardless of the paid class of 1 service.<sup>10</sup> First class mail normally has a delivery standard of 2-5 days, and 2 Nonprofit Marketing Mail has a delivery standard of 3-10 days.

3 74. An Office of the Inspector General report on the 2018 election found 4 that 95.6 percent of election and political mail was delivered within the 1-3 day
5 service standard applied to First Class mail. This is near the Postal Service's 6 overall goal of delivering 96 percent of First Class mail within the 1-3 day service 7 standard and indicates that election mail was processed across the country as if it 8 were First Class mail.<sup>11</sup>

9 75. Paying First Class postage will nearly triple the cost—from 20 cents 10 to 55 cents per ballot. The Postal Service had previously allowed States to pay a 11 lower rate when mailing ballots, rather than paying the more expensive First 12 Class rate. This change in the rate requirements will cost States tens of millions 13 of dollars.

14 76. These steps, among others, have led to slower and less reliable mail 15 delivery. For example, Baltimore residents report going weeks without mail

5 are left behind every day,<sup>15</sup> among other complaints.

6 77. As the Washington Post has reported, “[t]he new policies have 7 resulted in at least a two-day delay in scattered parts of the country, even for 8 express mail, according to multiple postal workers and union leaders. Letter

3 78. The effects of these mail delays are widespread, with troubling 4 impacts on vulnerable populations, small businesses, and political franchise.

5 79. Operational changes at the Postal Service have also delayed
6 veterans’ access to prescriptions. Millions of veterans rely on the Postal Service 7 for timely deliveries of prescription medications from the Department of 8 Veterans Affairs (VA). The VA fills 80 percent of veteran prescriptions by mail 9 through the Consolidated Mail Outpatient Pharmacy. The VA Mail Order 10 Pharmacy fills almost 120 million prescriptions a year. Every working day, it 11 processes 470,000 prescriptions and over 330,000 veterans receive their 12 prescriptions in the mail.

13 80. The VA states that prescriptions usually arrive within 3 to 5 days.
14 But veterans and VA staff have expressed concern that recently, medications are 15 taking weeks to be delivered, causing veterans to miss doses of their vital 16 medications.<sup>17</sup>

1           81. Senator Gary Peters of Michigan has received hundreds of accounts
2 from veterans impacted by delivery delays and other problems, writing “Veterans 3 who rely on the Postal Service to deliver prescriptions have reported experiencing 4 weeks-long waits for critical medication. Other veterans have reported financial 5 harm caused by late fees incurred because bills and payments sent by mail took 6 far longer to arrive in July and August than they had prior to these changes.”<sup>18</sup>

7           82. Other Americans also rely on the Postal Service for delivery of 8 prescriptions. This is particularly critical for Americans with disabilities and 9 Americans with chronic conditions, such as high blood pressure, diabetes, and 10 asthma, who need prescription medicines on an ongoing basis and are most at-11 risk if they contract the coronavirus. But recent changes slowing delivery have 12 threatened these Americans’ ability to access lifesaving drugs.

13           83. The “transformative” changes instituted by DeJoy have also delayed 14 seniors’ receipt of Social Security checks and many Americans receipt of utility 15 bills and benefits sent by mail.

16           84. Small businesses are also suffering from mail delays and have 17 expressed concerns that losing the ability to quickly process and send orders

1 means losing customers quickly.<sup>19</sup> Others have expressed worry that their 2 products will go bad now that deliveries are taking twice as long.<sup>20</sup>

3 85. The COVID-19 pandemic has already put small businesses on the 4 precipice. Delays of the Postal Service’s own doing—through “transformative” 5 organizational and operational changes made without observance of procedural 6 safeguards—should not be the reason for their fall.

7 86. Election officials have also expressed concern that a reduction in 8 postal service will impede voting by mail.

9 87. The Postal Service itself has warned 46 States and the District of 10 Columbia that it may not be able to meet State deadlines for delivering mail-in 11 ballots. In many States, completed ballots that are not received by Election Day 12 are invalidated. In other States, ballots must be postmarked by Election Day to 13 be counted. A decrease in operational capability and delays in processing and 14 delivery would disenfranchise voters. Voters may not receive voter registration

1 applications or ballots on time. Operational delays may cause completed ballots, 2 which would ordinarily take 1-3 days to arrive at canvassing offices, far longer.
3 They could also cause postmark stamps to be delayed by a day or more, even 4 when a completed ballot is placed in a mailbox before Election Day.

5 88. The removal and destruction of Advanced Facer-Canceler Machines
6 could contribute to these delays. Those machines “cancel”—in other words, 7 apply a postmark to—pieces of mail, preventing the stamp from being used again.
8 Without these machines, as postal workers are required to hand-cancel a larger 9 volume of mail, delays and errors will increase.

10 89. As a federal district court in New York has observed in considering 11 the constitutionality of recent postal service changes, a delay in delivery can 12 mean that a “voter’s right to vote . . . may hinge on random chance,” with two 13 ballots mailed at the same time, at different post offices, with whether either vote 14 is counted depending “entirely on the speed at which their local post office 15 delivered their votes.” Gallagher v. New York State Bd. of Elections, No. 20 CIV.
16 5504 (AT), 2020 WL 4496849, at *20 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 3, 2020).

1           90. Nationwide, for primary elections held so far, over 65,000 mail-in 2 ballots have been rejected because they arrived past the deadline, portending the 3 issues to come for the general election.<sup>21</sup>

4       D. The President has repeatedly sowed mistrust about voting by mail.

5           91. Amidst the COVID-19 pandemic, election officials and 6 policymakers have looked at how to minimize transmission risks while voting.
7 One option is to increase access to voting by mail. Election officials from both 8 major political parties have encouraged voters to cast their votes by mail as a way 9 to avoid contracting or spreading COVID-19.

10          92. But since the spring of 2020, President Trump has attacked mail 11 voting more than 70 times in interviews, remarks, and tweets.<sup>22</sup> He has railed 12 about supposed massive fraud in voting by mail without supporting evidence.

1           95. Despite his attacks on voting by mail, President Trump himself has 2 voted by mail in at least two prior elections: He voted by mail during New York’s 3 mayoral election in 2017 and cast an absentee ballot during the state’s midterm
4 election the following year. The President and the First Lady have also received 5 ballots to vote by mail in Florida’s 2020 primary election. When asked at a White 6 House press conference how he could reconcile the fact that he has voted by mail 7 with his position that voting by mail is corrupt, he responded, “Because I’m 8 allowed to.”<sup>32</sup>

9           96. Along with spreading misinformation regarding mail-in ballots, the 10 President’s reelection campaign and the Republican National Committee are also 11 fighting the expansion of mail balloting through legal challenges.

12           97. They have filed or intervened in lawsuits in more than a dozen states, 16 ban the use of secure drop boxes for submitting take-home ballots and to 1 a plan to mail absentee ballots to all eligible voters. In Nevada, the President’s

3 of laws providing for mailing of ballots to registered voters this November.

4 98. The President has also opposed election aid for States and the Postal 5 Service, explaining that he wants to prevent the expansion of mail voting. In an 6 interview with Fox Business News, the President stated he opposed $25 billion 7 of emergency funds for the Postal Service and $3.5 billion in additional election 8 funding proposed by the House of Representatives: “[T]hey need that money in 12 don’t make a deal, that means they don’t get the money. That means they can’t 13 have universal mail-in voting, they just can’t have it.”<sup>33</sup>

14 99. At an August 13 White House press briefing, the President stated 15 that he did not want to fund the Postal Service because of expanded voting by 3 100. The purpose of this pattern of conduct is to purposely burden the 4 right of States to conduct elections using the mail, as they have done for many 5 years.

6 E. Voting by mail is safe and promotes no partisan advantage.

7 101. Voter fraud of any form in the United States is extremely rare.

8 102. Incident rates for voter impersonation fraud are between 0.0003 9 percent and 0.0025 percent, making it more likely that an American “will be 10 struck by lightning than that he will impersonate another voter at the polls.”<sup>35</sup>

11 103. The President tasked the Presidential Advisory Commission on 12 Election Integrity to review claims of voter fraud following his discredited claims 13 that millions of undocumented immigrants had voted in the 2016 presidential 14 election. But the Commission did not issue any findings showing evidence of 15 fraud before the President disbanded the Commission.

5           105. In another study, looking at five states that use universal vote-by-

106. States have several tools to ensure the security of mail ballots. Such tools include using ballot envelopes that bear a tracking bar code or tally mark that is unique to each voter and rejecting ballots if they are not sent in regulation envelopes that vary widely from state to state in format, size, and paper stock.

107. Many States require signatures and other personal information to be matched against voter registration documents and use mail ballot secrecy envelopes. And States can employ post-election audits to detect irregularities.

108. In many States, voters can return their ballots to a physical location, like a drop box or local election office. According to MIT's Election Data + Science Lab, in 2016 73% of voters in Colorado, 59% in Oregon, and 65% in

1 Washington returned their ballots to some physical location such as a drop box 2 or local election office.<sup>39</sup>

3 109. The President has also attacked expanding vote-by-mail systems as 4 partisan, baselessly claiming that “you’d never have a Republican elected in this 5 country again.”<sup>40</sup>

6 110. But studies have shown that voting by mail does not provide any 7 clear partisan advantage.

8 111. For example, a Stanford study that looked at elections in California, 9 Utah, and Washington from 1996 to 2018 concluded that no party benefits when 10 a state switches to universal vote-by-mail. The data showed “a truly negligible 11 effect” on partisan turnout rates. The effect on partisan vote share was 12 indistinguishable from zero. But the study did find a modest boost in across-the-13 board turnout, meaning both major parties saw a modest but equal increase in 14 turnout.<sup>41</sup>

1 F. Voting by Mail in the States

2 112. Voting by mail has a long and storied history. One of the earliest 3 known instances of absentee voting occurred with Continental Army soldiers 4 voting during the American Revolution. Wide-scale absentee voting first arose
5 during the Civil War. States allowed Union and Confederate soldiers to vote 6 while away, either at a field station or by mail.

7 113. After the Civil War ended, States gradually passed new laws to 8 expand absentee voting to civilians. Between 1911 and 1924, 45 States adopted 9 some kind of absentee voting system. Today, registered voters can vote absentee 10 in all 50 States. Many States allow absentee voting with no excuse, though eight 11 States require a reason (other than the COVID-19 health crisis) to allow it.

12 114. In 1998, Oregon by referendum decided to issue all its ballots by 13 mail. Washington followed in 2011. Colorado, Hawaii, and Utah are other states 14 that rely on all-mail elections.

15 115. More than 250 million votes have been cast via mailed-out ballots 16 since 2000 in all 50 States. In the last two federal elections, roughly one out of 17 every four Americans cast a mail ballot. In 2018, more than 31 million Americans 18 cast their ballots by mail, about 25.8% of election participants.

21 the United States of America (June 9, 2020), 22 <https://www.pnas.org/content/117/25/14052>.

1           116. Many States have made it easier to request or receive an absentee 2 ballot due to concerns regarding the COVID-19 crisis. Roughly 76% of American 3 voters—over 180 million people—are eligible to receive a ballot in the mail for 4 the 2020 general election.<sup>42</sup>

5           117. States have relied on the past performance of the Postal Service to 6 support the use of mail in elections. Some states, like Washington, Colorado, and 7 Oregon, adopted substantially all-mail balloting after having significant, and 8 successful, experience with more limited mail balloting. Neither Washington, 9 Colorado nor Oregon have substantially changed their mail balloting systems 10 after using them for several election cycles. Other states have greatly expanded 11 the use of mail in balloting this year because of COVID-19 based on prior 12 performance in their states and elsewhere. The proposed changes to the Postal 13 Service operations threaten to disrupt this long history of the successful use of 14 mail in balloting.

15           1. Washington

16           a. Washington’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

17           118. Washington has a decades-long history of safely and securely 18 administering mail-in elections. Washington first permitted special elections to 19 _____

1 be conducted by mail in 1983. In 1991, Washington State expanded vote-by-mail 2 options by allowing any qualified voter to register as an “ongoing absentee 3 voter,” to thereby receive absentee ballots for every election.

4 119. In 2005, Washington passed a law that provided counties the option 5 of conducting elections entirely by mail. In response, more than two-thirds of 6 Washington counties switched to all-mail elections. Now, by law, each voter in 7 Washington receives a postage-paid ballot for each general election, special 8 election, and primary. See Wash. Rev. Code § 29A.40.010.

9 120. Voters can register or update their address online or by mail up until 10 eight days before the election. Wash. Rev. Code. § 29A.08.140. Unlike the ballot 11 deadline, the mail voter registration form deadline is based on receipt, not 12 postmark. Alternatively, voters may register or update their information in person 13 through Election Day.

14 121. County auditors mail ballots to Washington voters at least eighteen 15 days before each primary election, and as soon as possible for any subsequent 16 voter registration changes. Each voter receives a ballot, a security envelope in 17 which to conceal the ballot after voting, a larger envelope in which to return the 18 security envelope, a declaration that the voter must sign, and instructions for 19 marking and returning the ballot. Wash. Rev. Code § 29A.40.091.

20 122. Washington voters may return completed ballots by mail (with 21 postage prepaid by the State) or via a limited number of ballot drop boxes. The

1 State accepts completed ballots that are postmarked no later than Election Day.
2 Completed ballots submitted via drop box must be in the box no later than 3 8:00 p.m. on Election Day.

4 123. Canvassing boards must examine the postmark on the return
5 envelope and signature on the declaration before processing the ballot. Signatures 6 are also reviewed to ensure that a voter's signature on ballot declaration matches 7 the signature of that voter in the registration files. Wash. Rev. Code 8 § 29A.40.110. Canvassing boards can open and process ballots upon receipt and 9 can start counting ballots after 8:00 p.m. on Election Day. See id.

10 124. For a general election, canvassing boards must complete the canvass 11 and certify the election results 21 days after Election Day. Wash. Rev. Code 12 § 29A.60.190. Each ballot that was returned before 8:00 p.m. on Election Day, 13 or postmarked on or before Election Day and received no later than the day before 14 certification—that is, 20 days after Election Day—must be included. Wash. Rev.
15 Code § 29A.60.190.

16 125. For prior elections, counties in Washington have paid the USPS 17 marketing mail rate for distributed ballots. Regardless of the rate paid, USPS has 18 processed ballots as First Class mail. According to the USPS Office of the
20 21
22

1 Inspector General’s 2018 Audit Report, ballots are “Election Mail,” which is 2 “generally First Class Mail and its service standard ranges from 1-3 days.”<sup>43</sup>

3 126. Washington’s vote-by-mail system has proven to be secure. For the 4 2016 and 2018 elections, the Washington Secretary of State’s Office identified 5 only 216 cases of potential voter fraud out of 6.5 million votes cast, or about 6 0.003% of votes cast in those two general elections.

7 127. Washington’s vote-by-mail system allowed the state to run elections 8 during the COVID-19 pandemic without the danger of voters congregating at 9 overcrowded polling stations and leading to potential COVID-19 outbreaks as 10 seen in other states. In fact, voter turnout has increased in Washington during the 11 pandemic; turnout for the August 4, 2020, primary election was an estimated 12 54.09%, considerably above the 40.79% turnout for the most recent similar 13 election, the August 7, 2018 primary election.<sup>44</sup>

1                   b. Impacts of USPS's recent changes in Washington.

2           128. Three of the five mail processing facilities in Washington are no 3 longer processing outgoing mail: those in Wenatchee, Yakima, and Tacoma.
4 These changes were made with minimal advance notice to USPS staff and no
5 warning to the public. This means that all outgoing letters originating in the areas 6 surrounding these cities, including ballots, will no longer be processed at these 7 facilities, but will instead be transported to the two remaining facilities in Seattle 8 and Spokane for processing. For example, a letter sent from Yakima, Washington 9 to a location across town will be sent all the way to Spokane for processing and 10 then back to Yakima. A letter sent from Olympia to a location across town will 11 be sent up the I-5 corridor to Seattle for processing and then back down to 12 Olympia. This will slow delivery time. This may also move up collection times, 13 particularly in rural areas, and make it less likely for ballots to get postmarked in 14 a timely way.

15           129. Upon information and belief, USPS has removed or is removing six 16 Delivery Bar Code Sorters from Seattle, Tacoma, and Yakima, each of which are 17 major distribution centers. Upon information and belief, USPS has removed or is 18 removing at least one Advanced Facer Canceler System and at least one 19 Automated Flat Sorting Machine from Seattle.

20           130. Processing and sorting-machine closures are expected to lead to 21 delays in postmarking and delivery for ballots and other mail due to increased 22

1 transportation time and increased load on the remaining sorting machines,
2 leading to longer sorting time. Factors leading to delay include not only the 3 increased distance mail must travel for processing and delivery, but also winter
4 weather, travel on high-traffic corridors, and new USPS policies like reduced 5 staff overtime and an earlier deadline for end-of-day mail processing.

6 131. Washington voters with disabilities, like all voters, have options for 7 returning a ballot in Washington:

8 (A) They can choose to use their ballot received by mail.

9 (B) They can log on to the Secretary of State’s website to download an 10 online replacement ballot, which they can print and mark, or use their own 11 assistive technology at home to aid them in marking their ballot. They can 12 then print and mail the marked ballot, or print and drop off the ballot at a 13 ballot drop box.

14 (C) They can choose to go to any voting center in the state to vote in person 15 using an accessible voting device or to obtain a paper ballot.

16 132. The General Counsel for the Postal Service sent a letter dated 17 July 31, 2020 to Washington’s Secretary of State to notify her that “certain 18 deadlines concerning mail-in ballots, particularly with respect to voters who 19 register to vote or update their registration information shortly before Election 20 Day, may be incongruous with the Postal Service’s delivery standards.” The letter 21 went on to warn the Secretary of State that “this mismatch creates a risk that 22

1 ballots requested near the deadline under state law will not be returned by mail
2 in time to be counted under your laws as we understand them.”

3 2. Colorado

4 a. Colorado’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

5 133. Colorado mails every registered voter a ballot through the U.S. Mail 6 without having to request one. In 2013, Colorado passed the Voter Access and 7 Modernized Elections Act. 2013 Sess. Laws 681. The Colorado General 8 Assembly enacted this measure because “the people’s self-government through 9 the electoral process is more legitimate and better accepted when voter 10 participation increases” and decided that “expand[ing] the use of mail ballot 11 elections” was an appropriate “means to increase voter participation.” Id.

12 134. Every voter in Colorado receives a mail ballot packet delivered 13 through the U.S. Mail to the voter’s last registered mailing address. The ballots 14 must be mailed between 18 and 22 days prior to an election. § 1-7.5-107(3)(a)(I), 15 C.R.S.

16 135. The mail ballot packet received by every Colorado voter includes 17 the ballot, instructions for completing the ballot, a return envelope, and may 18 include a secrecy sleeve. § 1-7.5-103(5), C.R.S. The voter is responsible for 19 securing adequate postage if the voter elects to return the ballot through the U.S.
20 Mail. § 1-7.5-104.5(2)(b)(IV), C.R.S.

1           136. Overseas military voters are sent their ballots no later than 45 days
2 before the election. § 1-8.3-110(1), C.R.S. Colorado has a large number of active-3 duty military personnel. Unlike the ballots mailed to other Colorado voters, these 4 ballots may be sent electronically. § 1-8.3-110(2).

5           137. Colorado voters rely heavily on the mail to vote. In the 2016 state 6 primary, 97% of Colorado voters cast the ballot they received in the mail. In the 7 2020 state primary, 99% of Colorado voters cast their mail ballot. Of those that 8 cast their mail ballot, about 25% return their mail ballot through the mail as well, 9 while the rest return their mail ballots to drop boxes or polling places.

10           138. Many Colorado voters, in the military and otherwise, reside in other 11 states but are legally authorized to vote in Colorado. Colorado’s elections thus 12 would be negatively impacted by degradation to mail service in Colorado or 13 elsewhere.

14           139. As the above numbers make clear, voters of both parties 15 overwhelmingly vote using their mail ballot. In the 2016 general election, slightly 16 more registered Republicans returned their mail ballot than registered Democrats.
17 In the 2018 general election, slightly more registered Democrats returned their 18 mail ballot than registered Republicans.

19           140. Delays in the mail can have a significant impact on Colorado’s 20 balloting system. Colorado is an “in-hand” state, meaning that all ballots must be 21 in the possession of an election official at 7 pm on Election Day to be counted.

1 This is a hard deadline. Even events outside of the control of the voter, such as 2 mailing delays, do not alter the deadline. Even if the mail ballot shows a postmark 3 from before Election Day, that voter's ballot will remain uncounted. § 1-7.5-4 107(4)(b)(II), C.R.S.

5 141. In 2020, every voter's ballot will contain numerous matters of 6 statewide concern. First, the General Assembly has referred three measures to the 7 voters of Colorado to determine whether to enact or repeal certain state laws 8 concerning a nicotine tax, state bingo licenses, and property tax rates. Second, 9 the citizens of Colorado have gathered sufficient signatures to place at least four 10 measures on the ballot that may alter the state's laws on a variety of topics, 11 including the state's electoral college process and abortion. Finally, one of 12 Colorado's two senators in the United States Congress will also be chosen by the 13 voters of Colorado in 2020.

14 b. Impacts of USPS's recent changes in Colorado.

15 142. Upon information or belief, USPS has removed or is removing five 16 Delivery Bar Code Sorters and at least one Flat Sequencing System from Denver, 17 a major distribution center.

18 143. These removals are expected to lead to delays in postmarking and 19 delivery for ballots and other mail due to increased load on the remaining sorting 20 machines, leading to longer sorting time. Factors leading to delay include not 21 only the increased load on the remaining sorters, but also winter weather, travel 22

1 on high-traffic corridors, and new USPS policies like reduced staff overtime and 2 an earlier deadline for end-of-day mail processing.

3 144. These delays are likely to affect Colorado’s all-mail elections. As of 4 August 1, 2020, Colorado had nearly 3.5 million active, registered voters, who 5 would be in line to receive and return their voted November ballots through the 6 U.S. Mail.

7 145. These expected delays are also likely to affect Colorado veterans.
8 According to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs Eastern Colorado 9 Healthcare System, approximately 50,000 veterans served by that System—10 which covers the entire Colorado Front Range—use pharmacy mail order 11 requests.

12 3. Connecticut

13 a. Connecticut’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

14 146. The COVID-19 public health crisis has infected more than 46,000 15 people and killed more than 4,300 in Connecticut. The State has responded by 16 expanding mail-in voting to ensure that every eligible resident can vote both 17 safely and securely in the 2020 primary and general election season.

18 147. Connecticut does not have universal or no-fault mail-in voting.
19 Instead, state law limits mail-in voting to cases of absence, illness, disability, or

22

1 religious objection.<sup>45</sup> Article VI, § 7 of the Connecticut Constitution provides that 2 the General Assembly may enact laws authorizing mail-in voting by “qualified 3 voters of the state who are unable to appear at the polling place on the day of 4 election because of absence from the city or town of which they are inhabitants 5 or because of sickness, or physical disability or because the tenets of their religion 6 forbid secular activity.”

7 148. Pursuant to the state constitutional grant of authority, the 8 Connecticut General Assembly convened in a special session in July of 2020, 9 while the coronavirus and its associated illness, COVID-19, was sweeping the 10 state and the country, to pass Public Act No. 20-3. The Act, in relevant part, 11 amends Conn. Gen. Stat. § 9-135 to provide that, for the purposes of the 12 November 2020 election, the ongoing pandemic – and the risk of contracting “the 13 sickness of Covid-19” – is a valid reason for any eligible Connecticut resident to 14 vote by mail.

15 149. In response to the new law, Connecticut Secretary of State 16 Denise Merrill intends to send a mail-in ballot application to every registered 17 voter in the state—a total of more than 2.1 million people—in the run-up to the 18 November 3, 2020 general election. While these applications will be sent by the 19 _____

20 <sup>45</sup> Connecticut officials and the public alike generally refer to mail-in 21 voting as “absentee” voting. Here it is called “mail-in voting” to reflect its 22 expanded scope due to COVID-19.

1 Secretary of State, they must be returned to the town clerks in each of 2 Connecticut's 169 municipalities. These clerks, in turn, are responsible—directly 3 or through a contracted mail processing house—for processing the applications 4 and sending mail-in ballots to valid applicants. With the exception of blank 5 ballots sent to voters overseas and to service members in the Armed Forces, those 6 mail-in ballots cannot be sent to voters until October 2, 2020. Conn. Gen. Stat.
7 §§ 9-135, 9-140. While absentee ballots can be requested—by mail or in 8 person—until the day before the election, Connecticut by law can only count 9 ballots that it receives by 8 p.m. on Election Day.

10 150. Connecticut expects a record-breaking volume of mail-in voting in 11 the November 2020 election, as residents continue to reduce coronavirus 12 exposure and the risk of COVID-19 sickness by avoiding the social contact that 13 comes with in-person voting. In the state's primary election, held on August 11, 14 2020 under similar rules to those that will be in place in November, mail-in voting 15 exceeded prior-year benchmarks by a factor of 10. Nearly 57% of Connecticut 16 voters in the primary used mail-in ballots. Election officials anticipate that the 17 November use of mail-in ballots will meet or exceed that high-water mark.

18 151. To try and ensure that every vote will be counted, Connecticut has 19 placed at least one secure ballot drop box in each of the state's municipalities, 20 but election officials still anticipate that the Postal Service will be called upon to 21 deliver a significant volume of election mail at four key points in the mail-in

1 voting process: Ballot application delivery; ballot application return; printed 2 ballots sent by town clerks to voters; and completed ballots returned by voters to 3 town clerks.

4 152. Connecticut has chosen to expand mail-in voting because it is not 5 only safe—in the sense of sparing voters the risk of coronavirus exposure—but 6 also secure. The state has a history of secure voting by mail. On information or 7 belief, in the past ten years, the state has prosecuted and convicted just four 8 people of absentee ballot fraud out of 486,460 votes cast in general elections 9 alone—a fraud rate of 0.00082227%.

10 b. Impacts of USPS’s recent changes in Connecticut.

11 153. On July 31, 2020, Connecticut Secretary of State Merrill received a 12 letter from Thomas Marshall, USPS’ General Counsel, warning of a “mismatch” 13 between Connecticut’s mail-in voting process and USPS delivery standards.
14 Among other things, Mr. Marshall advised that, in light of USPS delivery 15 standard, a completed mail-in ballot in Connecticut should be sent by Tuesday, 16 October 27 in order to be received on time for the November 3 election.

17 154. On information or belief, the USPS has never before warned 18 Connecticut that it requires seven days to deliver First Class election mail to in-19 state destinations. That extraordinary delay for in-state mail is not a function of 20 geographic distance: Connecticut is the third-smallest state in the country, 21 measured in square miles. The distance between Greenwich, on Connecticut’s

1 western border, to Stonington, on the state's eastern border, is just 106 miles—a 2 drive of less than two hours on the interstate highway. And the lion's share of 3 completed mail-in ballots are sent to addresses not just within the state but within 4 the same town—a short distance, given Connecticut's compact size. The state's 5 largest municipality by geographic area, the city of Danbury, is just 41 square 6 miles.

7 155. Instead, the unprecedented threat of ballot delay reflects service 8 changes that USPS has made in the run-up to the November 3 general election.
9 On information or belief, USPS has removed or will, prior to the November 3 10 election, imminently remove, 18 key mail sorting machines from processing 11 facilities in Connecticut and from facilities in directly-adjacent communities that 12 process mail sent to Connecticut addresses. These machines include, at a 13 minimum, one Advanced Face Canceler System in Hartford, Connecticut, and 14 another in Westchester, New York, from a facility that serves many Connecticut 15 residents; 8 Delivery Bar Code Sorters from facilities in central and southern 16 Connecticut, and another 6 in Westchester; and both an Automated Flat Sorting 17 Machine and a Flat Sequencing System in Westchester. In addition, two 18 machines in Springfield, MA—in a facility that serves some Connecticut 19 residents for some types of mail—have also been, or will soon be, taken offline.

20 156. Some of these machines are able to sort upwards of 30,000 mail 21 pieces per hour. The removal and decommissioning of these machines—has had 22

1 the effect of significantly reducing the USPS’ capacity to process letters—and 2 thus mail-in ballots—and other forms of mail in Connecticut.

3 157. The mail processing delays consequent to bringing machines offline 4 has been exacerbated by new USPS policies (the “transformative” changes) that 5 slow mail processing and delivery. If mail is not sorted by machines, it must be 6 sorted by hand. But USPS directives assertedly aimed at blocking overtime mean 7 that there is simply not time enough in the work day for mail clerks and letter 8 carriers to process, sort, and deliver the mail timely, especially given workforce 9 depletions owing to COVID-19 illness and staff members’ childcare needs 10 related to the closure of schools and summer camps across the state.

11 158. The result has been significant mail backlogs in towns and cities 12 across Connecticut. Just months ago, in-state First Class Mail could be expected 13 to be delivered within two days. Now, as unsorted mail accumulates in post 14 offices and processing facilities, delays of up to a week are routine, and even 15 longer delays are increasingly common.

16 159. On information or belief, USPS’ service changes have already 17 resulted in numerous mail delays that have deprived eligible Connecticut 18 residents of the right to vote in the August primary election or significantly 19 burdened that right, in some instances forcing voters to choose between 20 exercising their right to vote and avoiding exposure to the coronavirus.

1           160. Connecticut held its state and national primary election on 2 August 11, 2020. In the aftermath, numerous voters across the state reported 3 receiving their mail-in ballots after Election Day—even though the ballots had 4 been postmarked at least a week, and in some instances up to ten days, earlier.
5 Still more voters who requested mail-in ballots weeks in advance reported 6 receiving their ballots within days of the primary election, too late for mail-in 7 voting. Those voters were forced to risk coronavirus exposure in order to vote in 8 person or else to avail themselves of the state’s drop boxes—an option that can 9 be difficult for many people with disabilities and to some older people with 10 limited mobility.

11           161. In addition to compromising residents’ right to vote, the USPS 12 service changes are harming the health, wellbeing, and fiscal stability of 13 Connecticut residents. Across the state, residents have reported unprecedented 14 mail delays since the service changes were instituted. Those delays have kept 15 residents from timely receiving necessary medicine and equipment. They have 16 kept residents from timely receiving funds that they rely on for rent, food, and 17 child support. They have kept residents from timely receiving bills and filing 18 important court documents. In every instance, residents report that the delays 19 arose only in the past weeks: Service was regular, swift, and reliable until the 20 USPS’ recent recent “transformative” service changes.

1           4. Illinois

2                   a. Illinois’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

3           162. Illinois has successfully used vote by mail procedures for over a 4 decade. In addition to using vote by mail procedures to enable members of the 5 military and Illinois citizens temporarily residing outside the state to exercise 6 their right to vote, see 10 ILCS 5/20-1 et seq., Illinois has expanded the 7 availability of vote by mail more broadly in recent years. Since 2009, Illinois law 8 has provided that any qualified and registered voter in the state may choose to 9 vote by mail in accordance with deadlines and procedures established in the 10 Illinois Election Code. See Pub. Act 96-0553 (eff. Aug. 17, 2009) (amending 10 11 ILCS 5/19-1, et seq.).

12           163. This year, in response to the Covid-19 pandemic, Illinois enacted 13 new legislation to further enhance the availability of vote by mail for Illinois 14 voters participating in the 2020 general election. On June 16, 2020, Public Act 15 101-0642 became law in Illinois. See Pub. Act 101-0642 (eff. June 16, 2020) 16 (creating 10 ILCS 5/2B et seq.). Since Public Act 101-0642 took effect on 17 June 16, 2020, eligible voters in Illinois (referred to as “electors”) have been able 18 to request applications “for an official ballot for the 2020 general election to be 19 sent to the elector through mail.” 10 ILCS 5/2B-15(a). In addition, election 20 authorities have been required to send applications for “an official vote by mail 21 ballot for the 2020 general election” to any elector who voted, whether by mail

1 or in person, in any of the following: (i) the 2018 general election; (2) the 2019
2 consolidated election (in which various municipal elections occur in Illinois); or 3 (3) the 2020 general primary election. Id. § 5/2B-15(b). Vote by mail applications 4 must also be sent to voters who have registered to vote or changed their 5 registration address after March 17, 2020, the date of the general primary 6 election, and on or before July 31, 2020. Id.

7 164. The vote by mail applications sent to Illinois voters under Public Act 8 101-0642 must also include a notice stating that “upon completion of the 9 application, the elector will receive an official ballot no more than 40 days and 10 no less than 30 days before the election[.]” Id. § 5/2B-15(c) (emphasis added).
11 The notice also informs voters that they may return the application by mail to 12 their election authority. Id. Both the application and notice are to be sent by mail 13 “to the elector’s registered address and any other mailing address the election 14 authority may have on file, including a mailing address to which a prior vote by 15 mail ballot was mailed.” Id. § 5/2B-15(d).

16 165. Beginning September 24, 2020, election authorities in Illinois must 17 mail official ballots to voters in Illinois who have requested them. Id. § 5/2B-18 20(a). Voters requesting a vote by mail ballot on or before October 1, 2020, must 19 receive one “no later than October 6, 2020.” Id. For requests received after 20 October 1, 2020, an election authority must mail an official ballot within two 21 business days after receiving the application. Id. Election authorities must 22

1 continue accepting vote by mail applications received by mail or electronically
2 through October 29, 2020—five days before Election Day, November 3, 2020.
3 See 10 ILCS 5/19-2. Voters may also submit a vote by mail application in person 4 as late as November 2, 2020, the day before Election Day. Id.

5 166. For Illinois voters returning their completed ballots by mail, their 6 ballots must be postmarked on or before Election Day and received within the 7 fourteen-day period following Election Day during which provisional ballots are 8 counted. See 10 ILCS 5/19-3, 19-8(c); 10 ILCS 5/20-2.3. Illinois law also permits 9 election authorities to create “secure collection sites for the postage-free return 10 of vote by mail ballots.” Voters who received vote by mail ballots have until the 11 close of the polls on Election Day to deliver them to collection sites for the issuing 12 election authority. 10 ILCS 5/2B-20(e). Illinois law specifically provides that 13 “[e]lection authorities shall accept any vote by mail ballot returned, including 14 ballots returned with insufficient or no postage[.]” Id.

15 b. Impacts of USPS’s recent changes in Illinois.

16 167. On July 30, 2020, USPS sent a letter to the Illinois State Board of 17 Elections warning that “under our reading of Illinois’ election laws, certain 18 deadlines for requesting and casting mail-in ballots are incongruous with the 19 Postal Service’s delivery standards. This mismatch creates a risk that ballots 20 requested near the deadline under state law will not be returned by mail in time 21 to be counted under your laws as we understand them.” The letter specifically 22

1 flagged that Illinois permits voters intending to vote by mail to apply for a vote 2 by mail ballot “as late as 5 days before the November general election.” It also 3 asserted that “the Postal Service cannot adjust its delivery standards to 4 accommodate the requirements of state election law.” The July 30, 2020 letter 5 from USPS to the Illinois State Board of Elections did not disclose, however, that 6 USPS was simultaneously removing critical mail sorting equipment from Illinois, 7 thereby enhancing the risk of disenfranchisement to Illinois voters seeking to vote 8 by mail.

9 168. Upon information and belief, USPS has removed or plans to remove 10 critical mail sorting equipment from at least seven facilities in Illinois: the 11 Cardiss Collins processing and distribution center in Chicago; the Carol Stream 12 processing and distribution center; the Champaign processing and distribution 13 facility; the Springfield processing and distribution center; the Palatine 14 processing and distribution center; the Peoria processing and distribution facility; 15 and the South Suburban processing and distribution center in Bedford Park.

16 169. According to USPS documents, USPS has recently removed or 17 plans to remove twenty-one Delivery Bar Code Sorters from USPS facilities in 18 Illinois, including: two from Carol Stream; four from Chicago; one from 19 Champaign; six from Palatine; two from Peoria; one from Springfield; and five 20 from Bedford Park. The removal of these machines will represent a 15% 21 reduction in Delivery Bar Code Sorters at facilities in Illinois compared to 22

1 February 2020, when there were a total of 141 such machines in Illinois facilities
2 according to USPS documents.

3 170. According to USPS documents, USPS has recently removed or 4 plans to remove Advanced Facer Canceler Systems (“AFCS”), Automated Flat
5 Sorting Machine 100s (“AFSM100”), and Flat Sequencing Systems (“FSS”) 6 from USPS facilities in Illinois, including: one AFCS each from facilities in 7 Carol Stream and Bedford Park; one AFSM100 from Bedford Park; and two FSS
8 from Bedford Park and one from Palatine.

9 171. The removal of critical mail sorting equipment from Illinois is 10 occurring at a time when prompt mail delivery has never been more essential for 11 protecting the right to vote for Illinois citizens. Maintaining and enhancing USPS 12 capacity is an urgent priority for Illinois in light of the expansion of vote by mail 13 options Illinois has adopted in response to the Covid-19 pandemic.

14 5. Maryland

15 a. Maryland’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

16 172. In Maryland, every voter is eligible to vote by mail-in ballot. Md.
17 Code Ann., Elec. Law § 9-304. This year, due to the COVID-19 crisis, mail-in 18 ballot applications with paid return postage are being mailed to all registered 19 voters for the 2020 general election.

20 173. By order of Governor Lawrence J. Hogan, Maryland mailed ballots 21 to every voter for the two elections that have taken place thus far in 2020—an 22

1 April 28, 2020 congressional special election triggered by the death of Rep. Elijah
2 E. Cummings, and the June 2, 2020 presidential primary election.

3 174. The April 28, 2020 special general election for Maryland’s 7th 4 Congressional District was the first vote-by-mail election for a congressional 5 election in Maryland history and spanned three jurisdictions: Baltimore City, 6 Baltimore County, and Howard County. Although there were three in-person 7 voting centers open on the day of the election, voters were strongly encouraged 8 to cast a ballot by mail. Of the approximately 157,000 votes cast in the election, 9 only 849 were cast in person, as opposed to over 156,000 votes by mail.

10 175. The June 2 primary election was the first statewide vote-by-mail 11 election in the history of Maryland and 97% of all ballots—representing 12 1,463,007 voters—were cast by mail or deposited in ballot drop-boxes.

13 176. It is expected that many more voters than in years past will vote by 14 mail-in ballot in the November general election. The current record high for the 15 number of mail-in ballots was set in 2008, with approximately 233,000 ballots 16 sent to voters and 210,000 completed ballots received. As of August 13, 17 Maryland had already received 210,634 requests for absentee ballots for the 18 November election.

19 177. Maryland pays the First Class rate for distributed ballots and 20 returned ballots.

22

1           178. After receiving a letter from USPS General Counsel Thomas
2 Marshall dated July 31, 2020, which warned that Maryland election deadlines
3 were “incompatible with the Postal Service’s delivery standards,” the Maryland
4 State Board of Elections moved up the deadline for submitting mail-in ballot 5 applications to October 20, 2020, from October 27 (for ballots sent by mail) and 6 October 30 (for ballots delivered over the internet). Moving the application 7 deadline will result in more voters missing the deadline and voting in person 8 rather than by mail, increasing the risk of COVID-19 transmission at crowded 9 voting centers.

10           179. Maryland accepts completed ballots that are postmarked on or 11 before Election Day and are received before 10:00 a.m. on the second Friday after 12 the election—November 13, 2020 for this year’s general election.

13                   b. Impacts of USPS’s recent changes in Maryland.

14           180. Widespread delays and disruptions in USPS delivery service have 15 been reported across Maryland in recent weeks. Some residents have reported not 16 receiving any mail at all. Others have described extensive delays in receiving 17 critical mail such as prescription medication, paychecks, benefit payments, loans, 18 and legal documents. Local postal workers have ascribed the delays to the recent 19 changes to overtime policy, the deadline for end-of-day mail processing, and the 20 removal of mail processing machines.

1            181. Upon information or belief, USPS removed six mail processing 2 machines from Maryland facilities in early August—four from Baltimore City 3 and two from the USPS Linthicum facility. Those machines are typically used to 4 process letter mail, including election mail.

5            182. The recent problems with mail service have provoked anxiety about 6 vote-by-mail in Maryland, with voters expressing concern that their mail-in 7 ballots will not be delivered on time or at all. As a result of the uncertainty caused 8 by mail delays, more Marylanders will predictably choose to vote in-person, 9 increasing the risk of COVID-19 transmission at voting centers.

10            6. Michigan

11            a. Michigan history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

12            183. Michigan has had absentee voting for more than 60 years. Prior to 13 the passage of Proposal 3 in 2018, a voter could vote absentee when one of the 14 following statutory grounds existed: the voter expected to be absent from the 15 community in which he or she was registered for the entire time the polls were 16 open on Election Day; the voter was physically unable to attend the polls without 17 the assistance of another; the voter could not attend the polls because of the tenets 18 of his or her religion; the person had been appointed an election precinct inspector 19 in a precinct other than the one where they resided; the voter was 60 years of age 20 or older; or the voter could not attend the polls because he or she was confined in

1 jail awaiting arraignment or trial. MCL 168.759(5) (amended by 2018 PA No 2 603).

3 184. In November 2018, though, Michigan voters overwhelmingly 4 approved Proposal 3, which amended Michigan’s Constitution and gave all 5 Michigan voters the constitutional right to vote by absentee ballot without 6 providing a reason.

7 185. Under Michigan’s Constitution, “every citizen of the United States 8 who is an elector qualified to vote in Michigan shall have . . . the right, once 9 registered, to vote an absent voter ballot without giving a reason, during the forty 10 (40) days before an election, and the right to choose whether the absent voter 11 ballot is applied for, received and submitted in person or by mail.” Const. 1963, 12 art 2, §4(1)(g).

13 186. An application for an absent voter ballot may be made by a written 14 request signed by the voter, on an absent voter ballot application form provided 15 by the clerk, or on a federal postcard application. MCL 168.759. The application 16 may be returned by mail or by delivering it in-person. Id.

17 187. Requests to have an absent voter ballot mailed must be received by 18 the local clerk no later than 5:00 p.m. the Friday before the election. MCL 19 168.759.

20 188. Mailed ballots must reach the clerk before the close of the polls at 21 8:00 p.m. on Election Day to be counted. MCL 168.764a; MCL 168.720.

22

1 189. Mailed ballots that reach the clerk after the polls close on Election
2 Day are spoiled and may not be counted, even if they were postmarked before 3 Election Day.

4 b. Impacts of USPS's recent changes in Michigan.

5 190. Local clerks in Michigan use both First Class and marketing mail to 6 mail ballots. Historically, the USPS has worked with the state and clerks to ensure 7 that election mail is marked and receives expedited service regardless of the class 8 of mail.

9 191. In 2019 and 2020, the state, clerks, and print vendors have expended 10 significant time and money on ensuring absent voter ballot envelopes meet USPS 11 standards for election mail. Since a statewide election in March 2020, the state 12 has allocated more than $2 million for the purchase of absent voter ballot 13 envelopes that meet these standards. The state led this effort largely at the urging 14 of the USPS. The USPS did not request that absent voter ballot envelopes be sent 15 only by First Class mail as part of this process. Rather, the state's expectation 16 was that USPS would continue to provide expedited service for election mail 17 regardless of class, and that increased statewide compliance with USPS design 18 standards for election mail would facilitate this service.

19 192. Voters pay First Class to have ballots returned, though some local 20 jurisdictions prepay for postage.

1           193. On July 29, 2020, Mr. Thomas Marshall, General Counsel for the 2 USPS, sent a letter to Michigan Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson to notify her 3 that “certain deadlines for requesting and casting mail-in ballots [in Michigan] 4 are incongruous with the Postal Service’s delivery standards.” Accordingly, 5 Mr. Marshall notified Secretary Benson that “this mismatch creates a risk that 6 ballots requested near the deadline under state law will not be returned by mail 7 in time to be counted under your laws as we understand them.”

8           194. Mr. Marshall also advised Secretary Benson that, as a result of the 9 Postal Service’s delivery standards, to the extent the mail is used to transmit 10 ballots to and from voters, “there is significant risk that, at least in certain 11 circumstances, ballots may be requested in a manner that is consistent with your 12 election rules and returned promptly, and yet not be returned in time to be 13 counted.”

14           195. As of August 14, 2020, Michigan has had more than 90,000 15 confirmed cases of COVID-19. The scourge of COVID-19 in Michigan has 16 increased reliance on voting by mail by more than 50 percent. In Michigan’s 17 previous statewide election in March, under 40 percent of voters cast ballots by 18 mail. In the August election, 65 percent of votes were cast by mail (a record for 19 a statewide election).

20           196. The August election set a state record for number of votes by mail 21 (1.6 million) despite having much lower turnout than November elections.

1 Although the Secretary of State does not yet have statewide empirical data, she 2 has received reports from several clerks that ballots they put in the mail took 3 several weeks to reach voters.

4 197. Moreover, there are anecdotal reports that mail is building up at 5 processing facilities, especially the Pontiac, Michigan processing center, and 6 most jurisdictions that have reported mail delays have their mail routed through 7 Pontiac. The Washington Post recently reported that cutbacks at the USPS, 8 including the loss of sorting and processing machinery, has resulted in a reduction 9 in the amount of mail that can be processed at the Pontiac facility by 10 approximately 394,000 pieces of mail per hour.

11 198. The State of Michigan tracks the demographics of its residents that 12 have tested positive, or died, from COVID-19. When measured in cases per 13 million by race, as of August 14, 2020, COVID-19 has disproportionately 14 impacted African Americans who have accounted for 15,487 cases per million, 15 compared to 4,250 American Indian/Alaska Native; 4,790 Asian/Pacific Islander; 16 and 4,984 White.<sup>46</sup>

17 199. Because of the disproportionate impact that COVID-19 has had on 18 communities of color in Michigan, and because COVID-19 has increased 19 reliance on voting by mail by more than 50% in Michigan, delays in postal

1 delivery could disproportionality impact the voting rights of minorities in 2 Michigan.

3 7. Minnesota

4 a. Minnesota’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

5 200. The Minnesota Constitution provides that “[n]o member of this state 6 shall be disfranchised or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any 7 citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land or the judgment of his peers,” and 8 that “[e]very person 18 years of age or more who has been a citizen of the United 9 States for three months and who has resided in the precinct for 30 days next 10 preceding an election shall be entitled to vote in that precinct.” Minn. Const.
11 arts. I, § 2, VII, § 1.

12 201. Together, these provisions guarantee the right to vote to eligible 13 Minnesota residents. Minnesota courts have long held that the right to vote and 14 the right to participate in the political franchise is a fundamental right. See, e.g., 15 Kahn v. Griffin, 701 N.W.2d 815, 831 (Minn. 2005).

16 202. Moreover, the Minnesota Supreme Court has recognized that 17 absentee voting is crucial to participation in the franchise: “The purpose of the 18 absentee ballot is to enfranchise those voters who cannot vote in person.”
19 Erlandson v. Kiffmeyer, 659 N.W.2d 724, 734 (Minn. 2003).

20 203. Minnesota law has permitted absentee balloting since 1862, when 21 the state legislature permitted state residents serving in the Union military to 22

1 complete and mail their ballots to local election officials. 1862 Minn. Laws, 1st 2 Spec. Sess. ch. 1, at 1-13. Under current Minnesota law, any eligible voter may 3 vote by absentee ballot. Minn. Stat. § 203B.02, subd. 1 (2018). A voter may apply
4 for an absentee ballot at any time at least one day before the election. Id. §
5 203B.04. When a local election official receives an absentee ballot application, 6 the registrar mails the applicant a sealed envelope containing the unmarked 7 ballot, instructions for completing the ballot, and an envelope for resealing the 8 marked ballot. Id. § 203B.07, subds. 1–3.

9       204. The resealing envelope has “[a] certificate of eligibility to vote by 10 absentee ballot printed on the back” on which the voter must provide personal 11 identification information, such as the last four digits of their Social Security 12 number, their driver’s license number, or their state identification number. Id., 13 subd 3. After a voter marks the ballot, they must seal the ballot in its envelope 14 and sign the eligibility certificate on the back. Id.

15       205. Once a completed absentee ballot is received, it is reviewed by a 16 “ballot board” appointed by the local county or municipal election office.
17 Id. § 203B.121. The ballot board accepts the ballot if a majority of the board is 18 satisfied that the voter’s name and address match the voter’s application, the 19 signed envelope matches the identification number on the application, the voter 20 is eligible and registered to vote, the envelope includes a “certificate [that] has
22

1 | been completed,” and the voter has not voted twice in that election. Id., subd.
2 | 2(b).

3 |         206. Minnesota law contains a separate procedure for eligible voters who 4 | serve in the military or are temporarily outside of the United States and wish to
5 | cast an absentee ballot from overseas. See id. §§ 203B.16–.28. The election
6 | procedure for military and overseas absentee balloting is substantially identical
7 | to the standard absentee procedure detailed above. See id. §§ 203B.17, subd. 2
8 | (governing applications for absentee ballots), .22(a) (governing transmission of 9 | ballots), .23, subd. 2 (requiring ballot board to accept ballot if it meets statutory
10 | criteria). Notably, the military and overseas absentee balloting process relies
11 | heavily on the U.S. Mail.

12 |         207. Minnesota law provides for an additional procedure, separate from 13 | absentee balloting, under which all voting in certain rural precincts is conducted
14 | by mail. Id. § 204B.45. In precincts using mail balloting, county election officials
15 | send ballots to all registered voters between 14 and 46 days before each regularly
16 | scheduled election. Id. subd. 2. A ballot board reviews completed mail ballots
17 | and accepts or rejects them based on statutory criteria. Id.

18 |         208. Under Minnesota law, an absentee or mail ballot must be received
19 | no later than 8:00 p.m. on Election Day in order to be counted. Id. §§ 203B.08,
20 | subd. 3, 204B.45-.46, Minn. R. 8210.2200, subp. 1, .3000. In light of the global
21 | health pandemic caused by COVID-19, for the purposes of the 2020 general
22 |

1 election, this deadline has been postponed by one week, pursuant to a consent
2 decree entered by a state district court. LaRose v. Simon, No. 62-CV-20-3149, 3 Order and Mem. at 1, 7 (Minn. Dist. Ct. Aug. 3, 2020), Stipulation and Partial 4 Consent Decree § VI.D, appeal filed and accelerated review granted Nos. A20-5 1040, A20-1041 (Minn. Aug. 12, 2020). Under the consent decree, absentee and 6 mail ballots postmarked on or before Election Day will be accepted if election 7 officials receive them no later than 8:00 p.m. on November 10. Id.

8 b. Impacts of USPS's recent changes in Minnesota.

9 209. Minnesotans rely on the U.S. Mail system for a wide range of 10 services, including exercising their fundamental right to vote, receiving 11 medications, conducting business, and maintaining connections with loved ones.

12 210. Absentee voters in Minnesota rely on the USPS more so than voters 13 in many states because Minnesota has no statutory infrastructure regarding ballot 14 drop boxes. Postal delays risk imposing particularly serious harms on Minnesota 15 voters because a lack of drop boxes means voters have fewer alternatives for 16 transmitting absentee or mail ballots to election officials. The rights of 17 Minnesotans who rely on absentee balloting on grounds such as these are at 18 particular risk as the result of USPS's recent changes.

19 211. If the ballots of Minnesotans who vote absentee are not received by 20 election officials in time for the ballots to be counted in the 2020 November 21 general election, these voters will be disenfranchised.

1           212. The stakes are particularly high in this election cycle: Minnesota 2 election officials expect there will be at least 1.2 million state residents voting 3 from home, which represents an extraordinary increase over previous elections 4 in terms of both raw numbers and percentage of the electorate.

5           213. Minnesota is home to eleven federally recognized Native American 6 tribal communities, many of whose members reside on reservations where mail 7 service is often unreliable. Further degradation of USPS's ability to efficiently 8 deliver absentee and mail ballots risks imposing especially severe harms on 9 Native American voters.

10           214. Recent changes to USPS facilities and procedures inside or outside 11 of Minnesota have resulted in substantial changes to the time needed to deliver 12 U.S. Mail sent to or from Minnesota addresses. Minnesotans have reported 13 experiencing delays in their mail service. For example, Minnesota residents have 14 faced delays in receiving medications and in having face masks delivered to 15 combat the COVID-19 pandemic. Just days ahead of Minnesota's August 11, 16 2020 primary election, some Minneapolis residents had not yet received their 17 requested absentee ballots. Many of these residents' personal circumstances 18 made voting in person more difficult, particularly for those at a higher risk of 19 viral infection. Postal workers have attributed these types of delays to changes 20 made by the Postmaster General.

1           215. The USPS's sorting capacity in the Twin Cities area has reportedly 2 been reduced by approximately 100,000 to 200,000 pieces of mail per hour.
3 Minneapolis and St. Paul have the two largest mail-processing facilities in the 4 state. Upon information and belief, at least three mail sorting machines have been 5 decommissioned in Minneapolis in the past few months and six more are 6 scheduled for decommission. Upon information and belief, St. Paul's facility has 7 recently lost the use of six letter-sorting machines and one flat-sorting machine.
8 The facility is scheduled to lose another four letter-sorting machines by the end 9 of the month, resulting in a total of a ten-machine reduction for letter sorting. Ten 10 letter-sorting machines can process five million pieces of mail a day.

11           216. This reduction in speed to process mail is particularly likely to have 12 a disparate impact on persons of color who use the U.S. Mail system to vote or 13 for other reasons. Whereas about 20% of Minnesota's population is composed of 14 persons of color, about 40% of Minneapolis residents are persons of color and 15 49% of St. Paul's population are persons of color.

16           8. Nevada

17           a. Nevada's History and Procedures for Mail Voting

18           217. Nevada has a decades-long history of safely and securely 19 administering mail-in elections. In 1991, Nevada adopted a no-excuse absentee 20 system whereby any voter may request a paper ballot and cast it by mail. Since 21 as early as 1960, Nevada has also mailed ballots to the residents of designated

1 mailing precincts. Until 2020, mailing precincts were typically established in 2 remote rural areas where it is difficult or impractical to staff physical polling 3 locations.

4 218. In 2020, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Nevada's state and local 5 election officials worked in partnership to expand mailing precincts to cover the 6 entire geographic area of the state. This was accomplished through administrative 7 action, as opposed to legislation. The Nevada Secretary of State emphasized that 8 the expansion of mailing precincts was only to be effective for the June 9, 2020 9 primary election.

10 219. With the expansion of mailing precincts for the June 9, 2020 primary 11 elections, local election officials mailed ballots to all active registered voters in 12 Washoe County, in Carson City, and in each of Nevada's fourteen rural counties.
13 Additionally, in Clark County, local election officials mailed ballots to all active 14 and inactive registered voters, most of whom reside within the Las Vegas Valley 15 metropolitan area. Although local election officials established at least one 16 physical polling location in each of their respective jurisdictions, more than 17 ninety-eight percent of voters opted to vote by mail in the 2020 primary election.
18 The statewide voter turnout for the 2020 primary election was thirty percent, 19 which is relatively high compared to turnout for the 2018 primary election (23%) 20 and the 2016 primary election (19%).

1           220. On July 31, 2020, recognizing the importance of voting by mail as 2 a means to enfranchise voters who might otherwise be unable to vote due to 3 circumstances beyond their control, Nevada legislators introduced Assembly Bill 4 (AB 4) of the 32nd (2020) Special Session of the Nevada Legislature. Signed by 5 Governor Sisolak on August 3, 2020, AB 4 directs state and local election 6 officials to mail ballots to all active registered voters in Nevada during certain 7 declared emergencies such as the COVID-19 pandemic. As a practical matter, 8 AB 4 directs state and local election officials to repeat, in the 2020 general 9 election, the vote-by-mail processes that they developed for the 2020 primary 10 election.

11           221. Applicable to elections occurring during declared emergencies, AB 12 4 establishes a hybrid vote-by-mail system in which voters have the option to 13 vote by mail or by personal appearance. Those who choose to vote in person may 14 do so at designated vote centers during Nevada's two-week early voting period 15 or on Election Day. Those who vote by mail must submit ballots in postage 16 prepaid return envelopes that are postmarked on or before Election Day. If a 17 ballot return envelope does not bear a legible postmark, it is presumed to have 18 been deposited in the mail on or before Election Day if received by election 19 officials within 3 days after Election Day. In light of these provisions of AB 4, 20 slow mail service could easily disenfranchise voters who timely deposit their 21 ballots in the mail on or before Election Day.

1           222. Voting by mail will be especially important in Nevada’s remote 2 rural communities. In recent years, for example, Native Americans have been 3 involved in litigation over voting access on the Pyramid Lake, Walker River, and 4 Duck Valley reservations. Because polling locations had often been inaccessible 5 due to long travel distances, the residents of these communities requested that 6 physical polling be placed on or near the reservations in question. The issue of 7 polling places was partially addressed by legislation in 2017, but the onset of the 8 pandemic has now made physical polling locations problematic in these outlying 9 communities. Consequently, reliable, speedy mail service is crucially important 10 to enfranchise the many Native Americans, among others, who reside in remote 11 parts of the state.

12           223. For prior elections, Washington and Nevada have paid the USPS 13 marketing mail rate for distributed ballots. Regardless of the rate paid, USPS has 14 processed ballots as First-Class Mail. According to the USPS Office of the 15 Inspector General’s 2018 Audit Report, ballots are “Election Mail,” which is 16 “generally First-Class Mail and its service standard ranges from 1-3 days.”<sup>47</sup>

17           224. Nevada’s vote-by-mail system was effectively tested during the 18 2020 primary election and proved to be secure. No instances of voter fraud were

1 reported during the 2020 primary election. Moreover, as noted above, Nevada
2 has offered its voters no-excuse absentee voting since 1991. Reports of voter 3 fraud related to absentee voting are exceedingly rare, and no instances of such 4 fraud were confirmed during the 2016 and 2018 election cycles.

5 b. Impacts of USPS’s Recent Changes in Nevada.

6 225. Upon information or belief, USPS has removed three Delivery Bar 7 Code Sorters from Las Vegas and Reno, Nevada’s two major distribution centers.
8 Upon information or belief, USPS has removed at least one Automated Flat 9 Sorting Machine from Las Vegas.

10 226. Processing and sorting-machine closures are expected to lead to 11 delays in postmarking and delivery for ballots and other mail due to increased 12 transportation time and increased load on the remaining sorting machines, 13 leading to longer sorting time. Factors leading to delay include not only the 14 increased distance mail must travel for processing and delivery, but also winter
15 weather, travel on high-traffic corridors, and new USPS policies like reduced 16 staff overtime and an earlier deadline for end-of-day mail processing.

17 227. The USPS service changes are harming the health, wellbeing, and 18 fiscal stability of Nevada residents. Across the state, residents have reported 19 unprecedented mail delays since the service changes were instituted.

20 228. The “transformation initiative” has delayed seniors receiving Social 21 Security checks and Americans from getting utility bills.
22

1           229. More importantly during these stark economic times, the USPS 2 service delays have kept residents from timely receiving funds that they rely on 3 for rent, food, and child support. Specifically, Nevada, as a benefits provider, 4 relies on the USPS to deliver benefit payments as an electronic debit card. Delays 5 are particularly harmful for Nevada, which has experienced unprecedented 6 unemployment levels and delays associated with processing unprecedented 7 numbers of new benefit claims.

8           230. The USPS delays have kept Nevada residents from timely receiving 9 necessary medicine and equipment. They have kept residents from timely 10 receiving bills and filing important court documents. In every instance, residents 11 report that the delays arose only in the past weeks: Service was regular, swift, 12 and reliable until the USPS' recent service changes.

13           231. The USPS delays also threaten Nevada's administration of its mail 14 voting election during this declared public health emergency.

15           9. New Mexico

16           a. New Mexico's history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

17           232. New Mexico permits all voters to request a mailed ballot. No excuse 18 or reason is needed to vote by mail. N.M. Stat. Ann. § 1-6-4. A person may submit 19 an application for a mailed ballot either by mail or electronic application on a 20 website authorized by the Secretary of State. N.M. Stat. Ann. § 1-6-4(B), (C).

1           233. To be counted, ballots must be received by the county clerk by 2 7:00 p.m. on Election Day. N.M. Stat. Ann. § 1-6-10(C). Ballots received after 3 that time shall not be counted. N.M. Stat. Ann. § 1-6-10(D).

4           234. During the COVID-19 public health crisis, New Mexico has seen 5 increased demand for voting by mail. In the June 2020 primary election, more 6 than 247,000 absentee ballots were cast, over 23,000 more than in 2016.<sup>48</sup>

7           235. New Mexico anticipates this demand for voting by mail to continue 8 with the 2020 general election. In anticipation of this demand and to 9 accommodate the public health precautions needed with COVID-19, the 10 New Mexico Legislature passed legislation to adapt the election procedures for 11 the 2020 general election. N.M. Senate Bill 4 (2020 1st Special Sess.).<sup>49</sup>

12           a. The legislation permits county clerks to mail applications for 13 mailed, absentee ballots to all registered voters with active addresses and 14 who do not already receive mailed ballots pursuant to other laws. N.M.
15 Senate Bill 4, §2(D) (2020 1st Special Sess.). Ten county clerks, including

2 to mail absentee ballot applications to all voters.<sup>50</sup>

3 b. The by-mail, absentee balloting process designed by the 4 New Mexico Legislature in anticipation of the 2020 general election, to be 5 conducted in the midst of a pandemic, assumes a functioning Postal 6 Service with usual delivery times for election mail. Except for military and 7 overseas voters, applications for absentee ballots must be received by 8 October 20, 2020. N.M. Senate Bill 4, §2(F) (2020 1st Special Sess.).
9 Ballots are then mailed to voters, which by law must contain the notice that 10 “[i]f this ballot is returned by mail, to ensure timely postal delivery to the 11 county clerk, the ballot should be mailed no later than Tuesday, 12 October 27, 2020.” Id., § 2(E). If mail is delayed, there may be insufficient 13 time for absentee ballots to be sent to voters and returned to county clerks 14 during the two-week window between October 20 and Election Day. The 15 notice provided to voters to mail their ballots one week before Election 16 Day also may provide inaccurate advice about when voters need to mail 17 ballots to ensure they are counted.

1                   b. Impacts of USPS's recent changes in New Mexico.

2           236. It recently came to light that one mail sorting machine, a Delivery 3 Bar Code Sorter, has been removed from its facility in Albuquerque, and two 4 more are in the process of being removed. An Automated Facer Cancellor Sorter
5 is also being removed. New Mexico is concerned that these removals will impact 6 USPS's operations in Albuquerque and cause delays in processing and delivery

7           237. Delays in postal service are likely to disproportionately affect 8 Native American voters in New Mexico. Although the State has taken a number 9 of measures to ensure that Native Americans can cast ballots in the general 10 election, including measures in the special legislation for the 2020 election,<sup>51</sup> the 11 rural, remote nature of many Native American communities make disruptions to 12 postal service particularly harmful.<sup>52</sup> Because many homes in Native American 13 communities do not have traditional addresses, voters often use post-office

2 time to be delivered even under normal operations.<sup>53</sup>

3 238. These obstacles have grown larger during the COVID-19 public 4 health crisis. Closures of pueblos due to COVID-19 have caused voters to travel
5 longer distances to pick up their absentee ballots and disrupted Postal Service
6 deliveries.<sup>54</sup> During New Mexico’s primary election, despite overall voter turnout 7 increasing, turnout among Native American voters declined, as mail delays “were

1 service during the 2020 general election are likely to compound these problems 2 and cause many Native American voters in New Mexico to be unable to vote by 3 mail.

4 239. The recent USPS changes are also likely to have a disproportionate 5 impact on Hispanic voters. Upon information and belief, USPS is implementing 6 a new pilot program at the Five Points Post Office in Albuquerque, New Mexico, 7 which is in a part of the city that has the highest percentage of Hispanic 8 population. The pilot program will entail mail carriers making deliveries earlier 9 in the day, while leaving behind first and second class mail—which includes 10 checks, newspapers, and in the near future, political mailings, absentee ballots, 11 and absentee ballot applications.

12 10. Oregon

13 a. Oregon’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots

14 240. Oregon became the first state to conduct all primary and general 15 elections entirely by mail on November 7, 2000. Vote by mail was legislatively 16 adopted for local elections in 1981. In 1998 Oregon voters overwhelmingly 17 passed a measure adopting vote by mail for primary and general elections. In 18 2007 the Oregon legislature required all elections to be conducted by mail.

21 July 17, 2020, <https://bit.ly/31YSGuF> (describing challenges to voting by mail 22 among Native Americans in 2020 New Mexico primary).

1           241. Eligible voters who are registered to vote 21 days before an election
2 are mailed a ballot by county election officials. The ballot, along with a return 3 envelope and an optional security insert, are mailed to those voters no later than 4 the fourteenth day prior to the election and typically no sooner than the twentieth 5 day prior (with an exception for ballots being mailed out of state).

6           242. Prior to mailing ballots, election officials must determine what is to 7 appear on those ballots, design the ballots, and perform myriad other steps in 8 preparation for the election. These steps are laid out in significant detail in an 88-9 page procedural manual, available at 10 <https://secure.sos.state.or.us/oard/viewAttachment.action>.

11           243. A voter must return the ballot using an envelope provided for that 12 purpose. That outside of the envelope must be signed by the voter. The envelope 13 may be returned through the mail or to a designated ballot drop box. It must be 14 received by 8:00 PM on the day of the election. By law, the postage of the 15 envelope provided for returning a ballot is a “business reply” envelope, with First 16 Class USPS postage paid for by the State of Oregon.

17           244. Consistent with the Postal Service’s website explanation that First 18 Class mail is delivered in 1-3 business days, Oregon voters in prior elections have 19 been told they must mail their ballots not later than the Wednesday prior to the 20 election to ensure that it will be timely received.

1           245. Vote by mail in Oregon, following the procedures just described, 2 has generated high levels of voter turnout. The percentage of eligible voters who 3 have voted in Oregon general elections since the first all-mail election, rounded 4 to the nearest percentage, are:

- 5           • November 6, 2018: 68%
- 6           • November 8, 2016: 79%
- 7           • November 4, 2014: 70%
- 8           • November 6, 2012: 82%
- 9           • November 2, 2010: 72%
- 10          • November 4, 2008: 86%
- 11          • November 7, 2006: 70%
- 12          • November 2, 2004: 86%
- 13          • November 5, 2002: 69%
- 14          • November 7, 2000: 80%

15           https://sos.oregon.gov/elections/Documents/Historic\_Cost\_Participation.pdf.

16                   b. Impacts of USPS’s recent changes in Oregon

17           246. On July 31, 2020 USPS General Counsel and Executive Vice 18 President Thomas J. Marshall sent a letter to Oregon election officials regarding 19 USPS handling of ballots. In that letter Mr. Marshall states that Oregon voters 20 “should” have sufficient time to complete and return their ballots. The letter goes

1 on to state that votes should be mailed “at least one week before the state’s due 2 date . . . no later than October 27.”

3 247. The letter from Mr. Marshall to Oregon further states that voting 4 officials should use First Class mail to send ballots and allow one week for 5 delivery.

6 248. Mr. Marshall’s directions, combined with the previously-described 7 timeframes for mailing ballots to Oregon voters, mean that Oregon voters may 8 have to return their ballots by mail on the same day the ballots arrive, if elections 9 officials require the full time allotted to them to complete production of the 10 ballots and prepare to mail them. If elections officials can send the ballot at the 11 earliest day generally allowed by state law, voters may still have only six days.
12 Even these timeframes depend on the ability of elections officials to pay for First 13 Class postage.

14 249. Under the delivery timeframes stated on the USPS website, by 15 contrast, Oregon voters could safely expect to have at least one week and possibly 16 two to three weeks to complete and mail their ballots.

17 250. The shorter timeframe suggested by Mr. Marshall’s letter – and 18 indeed the discrepancies between the general delivery timeframes provided in 19 that letter and the delivery times claimed by USPS on its website – appear to be 20 the result of the improper policy changes that are subject of this litigation.

1           251. The shorter timeframes outlined in Mr. Marshall’s letter are likely 2 to result in materially lower voter turnout in Oregon’s election, and a materially 3 higher number of ballots that must be disregarded because they are returned too 4 late. Oregon has an important sovereign interest in reasonably ensuring that the 5 outcomes of its elections in fact represent the will of Oregon voters. The 6 unlawfully-adopted policies complained of in this action are likely to irreparably 7 harm that sovereign interest.

8           11. Rhode Island

9           a. Rhode Island’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots

10           252. Rhode Island voters can vote by mail for any of the reasons 11 enumerated in R.I. Gen. Laws § 17-20-2, including when any voter “may not be 12 able to vote at his or her polling place in his or her city or town on the day of the 13 election.” Thus, after completing a mail ballot application, any registered Rhode 14 Island voter may vote by mail during the COVID-19 pandemic.

15           253. Due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on voting in Rhode 16 Island, the Rhode Island Secretary of State and the Rhode Island Board of 17 Elections anticipate that the majority of ballots cast in the 2020 September 18 primary and November general election will be mail-in ballots.

19           254. Due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on voting in Rhode 20 Island, the majority of ballots cast in the June 2020 Presidential Preference 21 Primary were mail-in ballots.

22

1           255. An analysis by Rhode Island’s Secretary of State of voters who 2 submitted mail ballots in Rhode Island’s June 2020 Presidential Preference 3 Primary, conducted in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, concluded that 4 many Rhode Islanders who voted by mail were senior citizens.

5           256. In order to receive a mail ballot, a Rhode Island voter must fill out a 6 mail ballot application and send or deliver it to the appropriate state official; 7 depending on the election, Boards of Canvassers of Rhode Island’s thirty-nine 8 cities and towns, or the state Board of Elections, will receive mail ballot 9 applications.

10           257. Beginning the week of September 7, 2020, the Rhode Island 11 Secretary of State intends to send each active, eligible voter in Rhode Island a 12 mail ballot application for the November 2020 general election.

13           258. For the September 2020 primary election, mail ballot applications 14 must be received by the Boards of Canvassers by Tuesday, August 18, 2020, at 15 4:00 PM EST in order for the voter to be eligible to receive a mail ballot. See 16 R.I. Gen. Laws § 17-20-2.1.

17           259. For the November 2020 general election, mail ballot applications 18 must be received by the Board of Elections no later than Tuesday, October 13, 19 2020, at 4:00 PM EST in order for the voter to be eligible to receive a mail ballot.
20 See id.

1           260. Upon receipt by a Board of Canvassers or Board of Elections, mail 2 ballot application authentication is undertaken by the Board of Canvassers. (The 3 Board of Elections does not authenticate mail ballot applications). Not later than 4 4:00 p.m. EST on the eighteenth (18th) day before the date of any election, or 5 within seven (7) days of receipt by the local board, whichever occurs first, the 6 Board of Canvassers must either certify or reject a mail ballot application. See 7 R.I. Gen. Laws § 17-20-10(c). At the culmination of the authentication process, 8 which includes an analysis to verify the authenticity of the voter’s signature on 9 the mail ballot application, the mail ballot may be rejected or approved. If there 10 is a ballot application deficiency, the Board of Canvassers will mail a notice of 11 deficiency to the applicant (or otherwise contact the applicant) and provide the 12 applicant an opportunity to cure the deficiency. If the mail ballot application is 13 approved, a Board of Canvassers will certify the mail ballot application and 14 input the voter’s information into Rhode Island’s Central Voter Registration 15 System. Inputting the voter’s mail ballot information into the Central Voter 16 Registration System triggers the Rhode Island Secretary of State’s mail ballot 17 vendor (“the vendor”) to send a mail ballot to the voter.

18           261. The Secretary of State’s mail ballot vendor is located in Everett, 19 Washington.

20           262. Each day that the Boards of Canvassers certify mail ballot 21 applications, the vendor receives a list of all voters whose mail ballot 22

1 applications have been approved that day. The vendor mails via first class mail, 2 mail-in ballots to these voters on a rolling basis no later than one day after receipt 3 of the list of approved mail ballot applications.

4 263. The vendor prints all mail ballots for Rhode Island voters at its 5 headquarters in Everett, Washington. The vendor then sends the mail ballots to 6 all Rhode Island voters using the Seattle, Washington mail processing facility.
7 The mail ballots are then typically delivered to Boston, Massachusetts and then 8 trucked to a Rhode Island mail processing facility.

9 264. The mail ballots are sent by the vendor to Rhode Island voters via 10 United States Postal Service First-Class Mail.

11 265. While a large majority of Rhode Island mail ballots will be sent by 12 the vendor to Rhode Islanders at their homes in Rhode Island, upon information 13 and belief some Rhode Islanders are expected to request that mail ballots be sent 14 to temporary addresses outside of Rhode Island due to temporarily residing in 15 such a state. For example, certain out-of-state college students and members of 16 the Armed Forces may request that mail ballot be sent to temporary addresses 17 outside of Rhode Island.

18 266. Upon receipt of a mail ballot, a Rhode Island voter fills out the mail 19 ballot, places the mail ballot in an oath envelope, signs the oath envelope to 20 authenticate the ballot, and places the signed oath envelope in a pre-paid postage 21 envelope.
22

1           267. The pre-paid postage on the mail ballot envelopes is United States
2 Postal Service First-Class Mail.

3           268. The voter may then deposit the mail ballot envelope in one of a 4 limited number of secure ballot drop boxes in Rhode Island, or in a mail box 5 either in Rhode Island or outside the State if the voter is temporarily residing 6 outside of Rhode Island.

7           269. According to Rhode Island law, mail ballots must be received by the 8 Rhode Island Board of Elections by 8:00 PM EST on Election Day in order to 9 be counted. R.I. Gen. Laws § 17-20-8.

10           270. In order for a person’s mail ballot to count, therefore, Rhode Island’s 11 mail balloting process is statutorily dependent upon the timely processing and 12 receipt of mail ballots by the United States Postal Service.

13                   b.     Impacts of USPS’s Recent Changes in Rhode Island

14           271. Upon information and belief, the USPS has recently begun a new 15 delivery initiative test in the State of Rhode Island: the Expedited 16 Street/Afternoon Sortation (“ESAS”). The ESAS pilot program is reportedly 17 underway in Pawtucket, Rhode Island and, upon information and belief, may 18 curtail the ability of letter carriers to deliver the mail on a consistent and timely 19 basis.

1           272. Other postal branches in Rhode Island may have also decided to 2 implement this program, or a hybrid of the ESAS, which may result in 3 limitations or delays of mail delivery.

4           273. Due to the implementation of the ESAS pilot program and hybrid 5 versions of the program, all mail delivery, including but not limited to mail 6 ballots, may be delayed on a recurring basis with an increasing backlog.

7           274. Furthermore, in Rhode Island's 2020 Presidential Preference
8 Primary election, many postal workers in Rhode Island went above and beyond 9 their job duties to ensure that all timely posted ballots were delivered to polling 10 places on time, which was a challenge given the much higher than usual volume 11 of mailed ballots. For example, 38,294 people voted by mail in the 2004
12 Presidential Primary Preference, and 22,670 voted by mail in the 2012 13 Presidential Primary Preference – the two most recent Rhode Island Presidential 14 Preference Primaries that also featured an incumbent president of one major 15 party and an ongoing primary for the other party. See 16 <https://elections.ri.gov/elections/results/2004/preference/> and 17 https://www.ri.gov/election/results/2012/presidential\_preference\_primary/. By 18 comparison, 125,991 voted in the 2020 Presidential Preference Primary, with 19 104,542 of those voters voting by mail ballots.
20 https://www.ri.gov/election/results/2020/presidential\_preference\_primary.

1           275. Considering the volume of expected mail-in ballots for the September 2 primary and the November general election, the elimination of overtime and 3 other recently announced USPS operation changes may threaten to delay the 4 delivery of mail ballot applications and mail ballots in a timely manner.

5           276. Rhode Island also expects, with the certainty of a high turnout and 6 heavy reliance on voting by mail for this impending election, that postal service 7 disruptions could threaten to disenfranchise voters and additionally could 8 compromise the integrity of election results if the delivery of ballots are delayed 9 such that they will not be counted.

10           277. Finally, some Rhode Island voters are expected to vote by mail from 11 outside of Rhode Island. For example, under Rhode Island law members of the 12 Armed Forces and Rhode Island residents temporarily living outside of Rhode 13 Island for other reasons may vote by mail. Thus United States Postal Service 14 delays in jurisdictions outside of Rhode Island may disenfranchise Rhode 15 Islanders temporarily living out of the state and impede Rhode Island's efforts 16 to timely and efficiently count mail ballots.

17           12. Vermont

18           a. Vermont's history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

19           278. In Vermont, voters have been able to vote by mail (no-excuse 20 absentee voting) since 2001. Vermonters also have the ability to vote early at 21 their town clerk's office during regular hours for 45 days prior to the election.

1 Ballots must be received in the town clerk’s office before the close of business 2 on the Monday before Election Day, or ballots may be delivered to the polls on 3 Election Day before the polls close at 7:00 p.m.<sup>56</sup>

4 279. On July 2, 2020, Act 135 became law. This legislation, along with 5 previously enacted Act 92, authorized the Vermont Secretary of State to order or 6 permit, as applicable, appropriate elections procedures for the purpose of 7 protecting the health, safety, and welfare of voters, elections workers, and 8 candidates in carrying out elections, including expanding mail voting by sending 9 ballots by mail to all registered voters.

10 280. The Vermont Secretary of State has exercised his authority under 11 Act 135. In a directive issued by the Secretary of State on July 20, 2020, it was 12 announced that the Vermont Secretary of State will send ballots to all registered 13 voters via First Class mail (paid at the First Class rate) for the 2020 general 14 election. The State of Vermont will also include prepaid envelopes, postage First 15 Class for the return ballots.

17
18
19 _____
20 <sup>56</sup> There is an exception for ballots that have been mailed to the town clerk.
21 To be counted, they must arrive before 7:00 p.m. on Election Day. 17 V.S.A. § 22 2543(d)(1)(B).

1           281. Under Vermont’s current election law, ballots returned by mail must 2 be received by the clerk no later than 7:00 p.m. on Election Day, regardless of 3 when the ballot is postmarked.<sup>57</sup>

4           282. Voting by mail is especially beneficial for Vermonters who are 5 homebound, such as the elderly and members of the disabled community; those 6 who are economically disadvantaged and have limited access to transportation 7 and childcare that would enable them to vote in person during a set timeframe; 8 overseas and military voters; those who are temporarily away from home for 9 work or family reasons; and those who may not have time to get to the polls 10 during set hours, such as shift workers, caregivers, single parents, and those 11 without childcare or time off from work.

12           283. In the 2020 election, there is another category of Vermonters who 13 would be disproportionately affected by the need to vote in person: older voters 14 and those with compromised immune systems who are particularly susceptible to 15 harm from COVID-19. This category also includes voters who live with or care 16 for a vulnerable household member or relative, and who fear that voting in person 17 may expose them to the virus, which they may then spread to more vulnerable 18 individuals.

19           284. The COVID-19 pandemic has led to a massive increase in voting by 20 mail. More voters requested absentee ballots for the 2020 primary election than 21

2018	120,000	22,000 (18%)

11 b. Impacts of USPS’s recent changes in Vermont.

12 285. In the 2020 primary election, many postal workers in Vermont went 13 above and beyond their job duties to ensure that all timely posted ballots were 14 delivered to polling places on time, which was a challenge given the much higher 15 volume of mailed ballots than in previous years. Vermont is concerned that, with 16 the elimination of overtime and other recently announced USPS operational 17 changes, postal workers will be unable to fulfill these functions for the 2020 18 general election.

19 286. Vermont is concerned that, with the strong likelihood of a high 20 turnout and heavy reliance on absentee voting or voting by mail for this 21 impending election, postal service disruptions will disenfranchise voters, make 22

1 receipt and processing more difficult for election workers, and undermine the 2 integrity of election results if large numbers of ballots are not returned on time.

3 13. Virginia

4 a. Absentee Voting in Virginia.

5 287. Virginia permits any qualified voter to vote absentee after 6 completing and returning a valid absentee ballot application. Va. Code §§ 24.2-7 700 and 24.2-701. After receiving a valid application for an absentee ballot, the 8 general registrar then enrolls the name and address of the applicant on the 9 absentee voter applicant list. Va. Code § 24.2-706. The voter then has the option 10 to vote either in-person absentee, Virginia Code §§ 24.2-701.1 and 24.2-701.2, 11 or by mail, Virginia Code § 24.2-707.

12 288. Absentee voting in Virginia has seen a marked increase since the 13 beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic. In the 2020 June primary elections, 14 542,318 total ballots were cast, and, of those ballots, 105,832 were absentee. In 15 the 2020 May town and city general and special elections, 139,454 total ballots 16 were cast, and, of those ballots, 66,333 were absentee. In comparison, for the 17 2018 May town and city general and special elections, during which the number 18 of total ballots cast was 130,829, there were only 4,466 absentee ballots cast.

19 289. Virginia law sets forth robust protections to prevent fraud in 20 absentee voting, including: (1) Absentee ballot applicants must provide 21 identifying information, including their name, address, and the last four digits of 22

1 their social security number, Va. Code Ann. § 24.2-701(C); (2) An applicant must 2 swear to the truth of the provided information, subject to felony penalties for 3 making false statements, § 24.2-701(A); (3) All general registrars maintain a 4 publicly available absentee voter list with the name and address of each registered 5 absentee voter and a separate file of the applications of the listed applicants, 6 § 24.2-706; (4) For each absentee ballot application, the general registrar 7 confirms that the applicant is a registered voter, § 24.2-706; (5) Only the actual 8 voter may complete a ballot, and voters using absentee ballots must include a 9 signed attestation confirming identity, eligibility, and absence of double-voting, 10 § 24.2-706; (6) Upon receipt of the absentee ballot, the general registrar or 11 electoral board checks the ballot against the absentee voter applicant list and 12 marks the date of receipt in the appropriate column opposite the name and address 13 of the voter; and (7) Voter malfeasance triggers harsh criminal penalties, see Va.
14 Code § 24.2-1004(B) (“Any person who intentionally (i) votes more than once in 15 the same election . . . is guilty of a Class 6 felony.”); § 24.2-1016 (“Any willfully 16 false material statement or entry made by any person in any statement, form, or 17 report required by this title shall constitute the crime of election fraud and be 18 punishable as a Class 5 felony.”); § 24.2-1012 (“Any person who knowingly aids 19 or abets or attempts to aid or abet a violation of the absentee voting 20 procedures . . . shall be guilty of a Class 5 felony” and “[a]ny person attempting

1 to vote by fraudulently signing the name of a qualified voter shall be guilty of 2 forgery and shall be guilty of a Class 4 felony.”).

3 b. Impacts of USPS’s recent changes in Virginia.

4 290. It remains to be seen what any changes to the USPS system will have 5 on the absentee voting system in Virginia. Since these changes have been 6 proposed, localities in the Commonwealth have not had to mail out ballots. The 7 last ballots mailed out were for the July 7 and 14 special elections in Arlington 8 and Smyth Counties. However, ballot proofs will begin being reviewed on 9 August 22 and must be mailed out no later than September 18. To introduce 10 changes to the absentee voting system at this late a date promotes chaos and 11 undermines the absentee voting system.

12 14. Wisconsin

13 a. Wisconsin’s history and procedures for mail-in ballots.

14 291. Wisconsin’s qualified electors may vote either in-person or 15 absentee, including by returning absentee ballots by mail. See generally Wis.
16 Stat. §§ 6.76–82 (in-person voting procedures), 6.84–89 (absentee voting 17 procedures). Any qualified elector in Wisconsin may vote absentee for any 18 reason. See Wis. Stat. §§ 6.20, 6.85(1).

19 292. Absentee voters in Wisconsin may request a ballot from municipal 20 election officials either in person or by mail. See Wis. Stat. § 6.86(1)(a). Any 21 absentee ballot requests made by mail are valid if received before 5 p.m. on the 22

1 fifth day preceding the election. See Wis. Stat. § 6.86(1)(b). Upon a proper 2 request for an absentee ballot, local election officials typically mail the ballot to 3 the elector. See Wis. Stat. § 6.87(3)(a). Any such mailing must be made within 4 one business day after receiving an absentee ballot request. See Wis. Stat.
5 § 7.15(1)(cm).

6 293. After receiving and completing the absentee ballot, the absentee 7 voter may return it to local election officials either in person (which can include 8 deposit into a ballot drop box) or by mail. See Wis. Stat. § 6.87(4)(b)1. In either 9 circumstance, the ballot must be received by 8 p.m. on Election Day to be 10 counted. See Wis. Stat. § 6.87(6).<sup>58</sup>

11 294. Since the outbreak of COVID-19, demand for by-mail absentee 12 voting in Wisconsin has increased dramatically. For the April 2020 election in 13 Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Election Commission received more than 1.3 million 14 requests for absentee ballots, and voters returned nearly one million of those 15 ballots by mail. This represented an increase of 440% in absentee ballots returned 16 by mail compared to the spring 2016 election. Around 81,000 of these ballots 17 were received after Election Day, around 79,000 of which were accepted only 18 due to a federal court ruling extending the receipt deadline.

19
20 <sup>58</sup> The effects of this statutory deadline during the COVID-19 pandemic 21 are currently being challenged in Gear, et al. v. Bostelmann, et al., No. 20-cv-22 278 (W.D. Wis.).

1           295. Similarly, for the August 2020 primary election, Wisconsin voters
2 returned almost 600,000 absentee ballots out of around 900,000 requested. Only 3 around 106,000 absentee ballots were returned in Wisconsin's comparable 2018 4 primary.

5           296. Wisconsin Election Commission staff project that nearly 2 million 6 voters, around two-thirds of the usual total turnout for a presidential election, will 7 vote by mail in November. On September 1, the Commission will mail around 8 2.6 million packets of information about voting in the November election to every 9 registered voter without an absentee request on file. The mailing includes an 10 absentee application and a postage-paid return envelope.

11                   b. Impacts of USPS's recent changes in Wisconsin.<sup>59</sup>

12           297. Several local distribution centers in Wisconsin have been closed in 13 recent years. Any election mail sent by, for instance, election officials in 14 Madison, Wisconsin, to Madison voters must be routed nearly 90 miles to 15 Milwaukee for sorting and distribution. Similarly, mail sent by election officials 16 in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, to Eau Claire voters must first be routed around 80 17 miles to a Postal Service distribution center St. Paul, Minnesota.

18           298. This distribution process adds at least a day or two to mail delivery 19 times in many Wisconsin municipalities and thereby creates a small margin for 20

21           <sup>59</sup> The allegations in this section are drawn from recent news reports and 22 are therefore pleaded on information or belief.

1 error for timely election mail delivery. Because Wisconsin voters may request
2 ballots up until five days before Election Day, additional delays in mailing ballots 3 to and from voters would almost certainly cause more ballots to miss the receipt 4 deadline of 8:00 p.m. on Election Day.

5 299. The Lakeland postal district, which serves much of Wisconsin
6 including its largest metropolitan area—Milwaukee—has already rarely met 7 targets for on-time mail delivery and has often had scores below the national level 8 since late 2016. Any further reduction or degradation of Postal Service operations 9 in Wisconsin would further threaten on-time mail delivery in the state.

10 300. Slowdowns have already been reported at the Postal Service's 11 package processing facility in Oak Creek, Wisconsin, a Milwaukee suburb.
12 COVID-19 had already depleted the available supply of postal workers there, and 13 the elimination of overtime for Postal Service employees has only exacerbated 14 the problem.

15 301. Because Postal Service employees may not now work overtime, any 16 mail not processed at these facilities serving Wisconsin by the end of a shift is 17 left for the next shift. Postal Service employees in Wisconsin have been directed 18 not to wait for late mail and instead to leave it for the next day. Delivery drivers 19 have similarly been instructed to leave at set times, which gives them no leeway 20 to pick up mail that arrives late. All of these service changes threaten to create 21 more backlogs and delays in Wisconsin mail delivery.
22

1           302. These slowdowns will be exacerbated by the Postal Service's 2 decision in June to remove four sorting machines used at its distribution center 3 in downtown Milwaukee; it apparently plans to remove three more. That would 4 leave the facility with 29 sorting machines instead of the 36 it had a couple of 5 months ago. Previously, two workers had been operating each sorting machine, 6 but staff shortages have reduced that number to one. Again, these changes 7 threaten additional delays in mail processing and delivery, especially if and when 8 mail volume increases around the November 2020 election.

9           303. Madison election officials report that it now takes around five to 10 seven days for absentee ballots mailed from Madison to arrive at Madison voters' 11 residences.

12           304. These increasing delays in Postal Service mail delivery, if not 13 addressed, will almost certainly disenfranchise Wisconsin electors who will 14 choose to vote by mail in the November 2020 elections. Again, any elector can 15 request an absentee ballot by mail up until five days before Election Day, for 16 example on October 29, 2020, five days before the November 3, 2020, general 17 election. If the Postal Service manages to hit its standard delivery targets of one 18 to three business days for First Class mail, that could leave just enough time for 19 voters to receive and return the ballot by mail before the deadline of 8:00 p.m. on 20 Election Day. But further degradations of Postal Service operations like the ones 21 described herein will cause more delays in mail delivery, meaning many more 22

1 Wisconsin absentee voters will likely miss the receipt deadline and thereby lose 2 the right to have their ballot counted.

3 305. For example, Madison voters who request their ballot by mail on the 4 last possible day, October 29, 2020, would not even receive their ballot before 5 Election Day on November 3, 2020, given that ballots mailed from Madison 6 election officials to Madison voters are now taking around five to seven days to 7 arrive. This pattern threatens to repeat itself throughout Wisconsin due to the 8 recent slowdowns in Postal Service operations.

9 306. Likewise, even Wisconsin voters who receive their absentee ballots 10 well before Election Day will likely return their completed ballots by mail in 11 reliance on their past experience using the Postal Service, expecting that 12 traditional service patterns and delivery timelines will still hold true. The Postal 13 Service has traditionally represented that First Class mail—the classification for 14 election mailings in Wisconsin—will be delivered within one to three business 15 days. Although the Postal Service now caveats that timeline due to COVID-19, 16 voters have likely come to rely on delivery in that general timeframe. Voters who 17 therefore return their completed ballots by mail within that timeframe before an 18 election may miss the ballot receipt deadline, again due to new mailing delays 19 resulting from the recent changes in Postal Service operations.

20 307. These delays threaten to disenfranchise a significant number of 21 Wisconsin voters. Given the COVID-19 crisis, Wisconsin election officials have 22

1 | been encouraging absentee voting for the November 2020 general election—
2 | around 2 million absentee votes by mail are expected. But those Wisconsin voters
3 | now face substantial uncertainty about the integrity of Postal Service operations
4 | and whether they can rely on the Postal Service to deliver their ballots in a timely
5 | manner.

6 |         308. Already in Wisconsin’s April 2020 elections, around 81,000 ballots
7 | were received after Election Day, before the recent Postal Service operational
8 | changes took effect. Given the projected increase in absentee voting by mail in 9 | the November 2020 general election, it is likely that the recent degradations in 10 | Postal Service operations would again lead to large numbers of untimely ballots.

11 |                                   V. CAUSES OF ACTION

12 |   CLAIM I

13 |   Writ of Mandamus

14 |         309. Plaintiffs reallege the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth
15 | herein.

16 |         310. The USPS has a non-discretionary duty to seek an advisory opinion
17 | from the Postal Regulatory Commission “prior to” implementing any “change in 18 | the nature of postal services which will generally affect service on a nationwide
19 | or substantially nationwide basis.” 39 U.S.C. § 3661(b) (“When the Postal
20 | Service determines that there should be a change in the nature of postal services
21 | which will generally affect service on a nationwide or substantially nationwide
22 |

1 basis, it shall submit a proposal, within a reasonable time prior to the effective
2 date of such proposal, to the Postal Regulatory Commission requesting an 3 advisory opinion on the change.”).

4 311. Defendants’ recent “transformative” changes have created a 5 “change in the nature of postal services . . . nationwide” by significantly slowing 6 mail delivery. See Buchanan v. U.S. Postal Serv., 508 F.2d 259, 262–63 (5th Cir.
7 1975) (holding that there is a “change in the nature of postal services” under 39 8 U.S.C. § 3661(b) when “the manner in which postal services available to the user 9 will be altered”).

10 312. Defendants have failed to perform their non-discretionary duty to 11 seek an advisory opinion from the Postal Regulatory Commission “prior to” 12 implementing these “transformative” changes.

13 313. As a result of Defendants’ failure to perform this mandatory duty, 14 the States have been deprived of their statutory right to notice and comment on 15 USPS’ nationwide service changes. See 39 U.S.C. § 3661(c) (“The Commission 16 shall not issue its opinion on any proposal until an opportunity for hearing on the 17 record under [the APA] has been accorded to the Postal Service, users of the 18 mail, and an officer of the Commission who shall be required to represent the 19 interests of the general public.”) (emphasis added). This injury is particularly 20 grave here because the “transformative” changes appear specifically aimed at
22

1 interfering with the States’ ability to reliably use the USPS in conducting the 2 upcoming November 3, 2020 election.

3 314. Absent mandamus, the States will have no adequate remedy for 4 Defendants’ failure to comply with 39 U.S.C. § 3661. While a litigant could 5 ordinarily seek review of the USPS’ failure to comply with 39 U.S.C. § 3661 by 6 filing a complaint with the Postal Regulatory Commission, the Postal Regulatory 7 Commission cannot act quickly enough to alleviate the States’ election-related 8 and other harms. As a result, the States will suffer irreparable harm absent 9 mandamus.

10 315. For these reasons, the States are entitled to a writ of mandamus 11 under 28 U.S.C. § 1361 directing Defendants to “submit a proposal . . . to 12 the Postal Regulatory Commission requesting an advisory opinion on the” 13 “transformative” changes and enjoining Defendants from implementing these 14 changes pending receipt of the requested advisory opinion.

15 CLAIM II

16 Ultra Vires Agency Action

17 316. Plaintiffs reallege the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth 18 herein.

19 317. In the alternative to mandamus relief, Defendants’ “transformative” 20 changes should be declared unlawful and enjoined because they are ultra vires.

1           330. Article II, Section 1 of the United States Constitution provides that 2 “Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a 3 number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives 4 to which the State may be entitled in the Congress.” The Twelfth Amendment to 5 the United States Constitution provides, in relevant, that “The Electors shall meet 6 in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President.”

7           331. All 50 States vest the right to vote for President in their people and 8 appoint their presidential electors based on the results of popular elections.

9           332. The United States Constitution does not allow the federal 10 government to interfere with the manner in which States appoint presidential 11 electors.

12           333. Defendants’ actions impermissibly interfere with the Plaintiff 13 States’ right to appoint presidential electors “in such manner” as their 14 Legislatures direct.

15           334. Because the 2020 election in November will occur before state 16 legislatures can modify their election systems developed in reliance on the Postal 17 Service’s prior conduct, Defendants’ actions will cause irreparable harm to the 18 States’ constitutional obligation to regulate the appointment of their presidential 19 electors.

20           335. Defendants’ actions violate Article II, Section 1 of the United States 21 Constitution and the Twelfth Amendment of the United States Constitution.

CLAIM V

Violation of the Tenth Amendment

336. Plaintiffs reallege the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth herein.

337. The Tenth Amendment provides that “[t]he powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.” Through this amendment, the Framers intended the States to “keep for themselves. . . the power to regulate elections.” Gregory v. Ashcroft, 501 U.S. 452, 461-62 (1991).

338. Defendants’ actions—well after the States have established systems for voting using the Postal Service—to interfere with the manner chosen by the States to elect state officers deprives the States of their constitutional rights to regulate state elections and determine the manner in which state officers will be chosen. Defendants’ actions thus impermissibly interfere with the reserved authority of States and thereby violate the Tenth Amendment.

339. Defendants’ actions will cause imminent, irreparable harm to the States’ ability to regulate state and local elections for officers and ballot initiatives, including proposed constitutional amendments.

CLAIM VI

Violation of the Constitutional Right to Vote

340. Plaintiffs reallege the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth herein.

341. The United States Constitution guarantees that “all qualified voters have a constitutionally protected right to vote . . . and to have their votes counted.” Reynolds v. Sims, 377 U.S. 533, 554 (1964).

342. This right arises from multiple constitutional provisions, including (1) Article I, section 2, clause 1, which provides that members of the United States House of Representatives are “chosen . . . by the People of the several States”; (2) Article IV, section 2, clause 1, which provides that “[t]he Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States,” and, therefore, the right to vote for national officers is a right and privilege of national citizenship that is protected by Article IV, section 2, clause 1; and (3) the Seventeenth Amendment which provides that United States Senators are “elected by the People of” each State.

343. Defendants’ actions interfere with the ability of residents of the Plaintiff States to timely receive and return voter registration forms and ballots and have their votes counted, thereby burdening the right to vote of residents of the Plaintiff States.

1 of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity . . . conducted 2 by . . . the United States Postal Service.” 29 U.S.C. § 794(a).

3 355. Many of the States’ residents with disabilities rely on the United 4 States Postal Service for receiving important, life-saving medications through the 5 mail; casting mail-in ballots to participate in national, state, and local elections; 6 and conducting other important, time-sensitive activities that may otherwise be 7 prohibitively difficult because of their conditions.

8 356. Defendants’ actions impermissibly interfere with the rights of the 9 States’ residents with disabilities to be free from discrimination under Section 10 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

11 357. Defendants’ actions impermissibly interfere with the rights of the 12 States’ residents with disabilities to receive the benefits of and participate 13 meaningfully in the programs and services of the United States Postal Service.

14 358. Defendants’ actions will have a disparate impact on individuals with 15 disabilities, severely imperiling their ability to receive critical, life-saving 16 medications through the mail, participate in elections, and conduct other 17 important, time-sensitive activities.

18 359. Defendants’ actions violate Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

19 VI. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

20 WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff States request that the Court enter a judgment 21 against Defendants and award the following relief:
22

1           1.     A declaration that USPS has violated the procedural requirements 2 of 39 U.S.C. § 3661 by making a change or changes “in the nature of postal 3 services which will generally affect service on a nationwide or substantially 4 nationwide basis” absent a request for a Postal Regulatory Commission advisory 5 opinion and the public hearing that must precede the issuance of such an advisory 6 opinion;

7           2.     A writ of mandamus to compel USPS to submit a proposal 8 requesting an advisory opinion on any “change in the nature of postal services 9 which will generally affect service on a nationwide or substantially nationwide 10 basis” prior to the implementation of any such change;

11           3.     An injunction prohibiting Defendants from implementing any of the 12 operational changes, distribution center closures, removal of mail sorting 13 machines, or any other “change in the nature of postal services which will 14 generally affect service on a nationwide or substantially nationwide basis” prior 15 to its receipt of an appropriate advisory opinion from the Postal Regulatory 16 Commission; and requiring Defendants to rescind any such changes implemented 17 in the absence of an appropriate advisory opinion so as to restore the status quo 18 before their illegal actions;

19           4.     Vacatur of the operational changes, distribution center closures, 20 removal of mail sorting machines, and policy changes affecting mail delivery;
