Home Again Introduces Statewide Community Partnership Program

Launch partners include City of Las Vegas, City of Henderson, Clark County, Eureka County, and Dignity Health

Las Vegas, NV – Today, Home Again: Nevada Homeowner Relief Program, introduced their Community Partnership Program, a statewide, grassroots outreach initiative. As part of ongoing efforts of the Nevada Attorney General Catherine Cortez Masto, and the Financial Guidance Center, Home Again has received over 11,600 inquiries from Nevadans who are interested in learning about state and federal housing resources that may be available to them. Home Again will continue serving Nevadans as the “one-stop shop” for housing resources and questions. The overwhelming support of the Community Partnership Program by local municipalities is the launching point of a broad approach that will include businesses, local governments, and non-profit agencies across Nevada.

“This is a major step forward in Home Again’s effort to continue serving as the one-stop shop for Nevadans. We are thankful to have fostered strong relationships with the City of Las Vegas, the City of Henderson, Clark County, Eureka County, and Dignity Health thus far, and look forward to working with additional municipalities and small businesses across Nevada to continue addressing the ongoing need within our community. Our intention is to bring this invaluable resource directly to all Nevadans with our aggressive outreach efforts and partnerships with businesses across the state,” said Nevada Attorney General Catherine Cortez Masto.

“A thriving business sector, effective local governments and zealous non-profit organizations are the pillars of a strong Nevada. By launching our Community Partners Program with these institutions, we are striving to ensure that all Nevadans are informed about the resources available to them. I applaud the grassroots efforts of Home Again and I am eager to see the continued success of the program,” concluded Michele Johnson, President and CEO of Financial Guidance Center.

The purpose of the Home Again Community Partnership Program is to maximize advocacy efforts by uniting business and community partners in Nevada. Joining the Home Again Community Partnership Program is simple and will help educate Nevadans about this resource. Being a member simply requires one’s commitment to facilitate easy outreach within existing organizations. Doing so will help Home Again assist Nevadans who are recovering from the housing crisis.
