Child Welfare and Domestic Violence Listening Session

DCFS in Partnership with the Nevada Office of the Attorney General

7/30/19

Good Afternoon,

In an effort to improve how child welfare agencies work collaboratively with partners to serve families experiencing domestic violence, the Division of Child and Family Services is partnering with the Attorney General's Office and other stakeholders statewide to hold a listening session on July 30, 2019 from 9:00 am to 1:00 pm.

To improve adult and child survivor safety, child permanency and family wellbeing, we are inviting you to join a group of stakeholders to listen and discuss the intersection of child welfare and domestic violence in Nevada.

At this meeting we will provide some general information about the legal framework for both child welfare and domestic violence services, then open it up for a discussion by all attendees about what is working well, what improvements we can make and how we can all work together to improve outcomes for families.

We hope you will join us in this important effort!

Please RSVP by using the link below so that we will have a count of how many will be attending in each location.
